

Old Verbiage

A club holding a Licensed NAHRA Hunting Retriever Field Test shall offer prize ribbons for outright award, which shall consist of three (3) streamer ribbons with center button and rosette. Each center streamer shall be at least two inches wide and eight inches long. The two side streamers shall be camouflage color. The center streamer shall be tan color and shall be inscribed with the words "Qualifying Score," the name of the test giving club and the test stake. The words "Licensed Hunting Retriever Field Test" must also be included. A date tab separate from the streamers bearing the date of the Field Test can also be utilized. The rosette shall be tan color and shall have the initials "NAHRA" in the center button. If ribbons are given at Approved NAHRA Hunting Retriever Field Tests, they shall be a solid color and may have one or three streamers (club's choice). All other requirements stated above apply to the Approved ribbons, with the exception that the ribbon say "Approved Hunting Retriever Field Test."

New Ribbon Policy - effective Sept 14th, 2006

At a minimum, clubs shall provide the following ribbons as an award of qualification. The ribbons shall consist of:

- three (3) streamers with a center button and at least one row of rosettes
- the rosette shall have "NAHRA" in the center button
- the center streamer shall be at least two inches wide and eight inches long
- the two side streamers shall be similar in length and width
- the color and/or pattern of the ribbon and streamers shall be chosen by the club
- the streamers shall be inscribed with the words "Qualifying Score", the name of the club giving the test and the test stake, as well as the words "Licensed Hunting Retriever Field Test" (These could go on separate streamers.)
- a tab can also be attached with additional information, such as date or location or title, if desired

This new ribbon standard has been developed to offer clubs more flexibility in designing the qualifying ribbons. The design and color of the ribbons for "Approved" qualifications (picnic tests) are left to the discretion of the clubs.

Invitational and Regional ribbons shall remain red, white and blue in color and no other approved or licensed test may use these colors. The same minimum requirements above shall be used for Invitational and Regional ribbons.
