

Code of Conduct

Every participant of Kids Camp is expected to be a good citizen, helping others whenever possible, sharing and waiting patiently for each child to have a turn.

Every child participant must listen to the Counselors when asked to do so, must follow the directions of Counselors, and must adhere to all safety policies outlined with each activity.

No child may leave the Camp early without a written and signed note from their parent or guardian on the day they will be leaving early. Parents and guardians may pick up children early at any time but must check in with a Counselor at that time. If any child should leave early without prior arrangements, the parent or guardian will be called and the family will be notified that the next time will result in expulsion from Kids Camp.

Kids Camp is not a place for bullying, swearing, insulting, cursing, yelling aggressively, pushing or any other unwanted physical contact. Any dangerous behavior of this nature will result in immediate expulsion from Kids Camp with no recourse to return to camp this year.
