8th – 11th November 2018
Oxley Recreation Reserve, Vic

During this four day course riders will learn how to effectively influence their horses body and shape through developing better posture and seat connection in everything you do. We will explore different ways to improve your balance, stability and still gain more leadership with your horse. Is it time you eliminate brace?

The course will consist of learning how to prepare your horses on the ground first to be calm, connected and responsive to set you up for a more successful ridden session. In the saddle we will play with new strategies to increase your horses response to all your aids, ride with more precision and grace while still been in harmony with your horse in both your Freestyle and Finesse riding.

We will take the steps of the Finesse sequence to the next level, learning how to play the game of contact and teach you and your horse how to have an elastic contact in walk, trot and canter. This specialty course will only be offered once this year so don't miss out 😊
