

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”

Chester County Briefly: May 21, 2019

Chester County 2020

Sarah Peck, recipient of the 2019 Citizen Planner Award by Chester County 2020, said “building true neighborhoods” is an essential component of Chester County’s success and a major reason for the county’s “wonderful quality of life.”

Peck, President of Progressive New Homes, said during her career she has first learned “that people yearn for the same thing: a sense of community.” She has built progressive, affordably priced housing in Chester and Montgomery counties.

“I’m glad to have contributed in some small way to the goals of Chester County 2020 – in promoting growth in the denser urban cores and finding creative ways to develop affordably priced ownership,” Peck said. “It’s a dynamic and ever-challenging process as economic cycles wax and wane and market preference constantly evolve. But there are many intersections between this work and the goals of Chester County 2020.”