

California LGBT Health & Human Services Network

As the Trump administration continues to try to roll the clock back on rights for transgender, gender nonconforming, and intersex Americans, the country replied that trans people #WontBeErased. Hundreds of trans people and allies gathered in Oakland, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Sonoma, Mendocino, and everywhere in between to rise up united and fight back against the administration's latest attacks.

We stand with all of those working to build more just and affirming communities for trans Californians. Here at home, our government has gone above and beyond the federal guarantees: Trans Californians have a right to access health care, education, housing, employment, and more without facing discrimination.

We have come a long way and we know there is still work to do. Our communities are still plagued by violence and systems sometimes fail to uphold equal access, despite state law. What's more, the Trump administration has emboldened people to act on prejudice and violate existing law.

When that happens, we have the power to fight back.
