Sheridan Community Land Trust Strategic Plan

FY 2019-2023 (Begin July 1, 2018 - End June 30, 2023)

Mission

SCLT preserves agricultural landscapes, open space, wildlife habitats, historical sites, and promotes and provides recreational opportunities in Sheridan County, these interests being complementary and essential to the quality of life and economic stability in Sheridan County.

Vision for SCLT in Ten Years

SCLT will be well recognized as the entity in Sheridan County that is focused on what the landscape will look like 100 years from now ensuring that, throughout the County, there will be adequate and available open space, a variety of convenient outdoor recreational opportunities, intact riparian and wildlife corridors that offer secure habitat for the species present today, and that there is a common understanding of the value of preserving significant historic resources. SCLT’s work will perpetuate its region’s unique and vibrant character and high quality of life and add value and stability to the economy of Sheridan County. We envision a future in which healthy population growth and related development are paired with responsible conservation that pays credence to sustainable agriculture and family ranching and ensures a balanced landscape for current and future generations.

In addition:
1. SCLT is known and respected for its partnership with public and private owners to protect Sheridan County’s landscapes and vistas, and provides recreational access opportunities.

2. SCLT is known and respected for its partnerships that have preserved historic properties across Sheridan County.

3. SCLT is recognized for a small staff of bright, energetic, team players with complementary skills in land planning, natural resource values, negotiation, fundraising and project management.

4. SCLT is known for its high standards. Through partnering with landowners, SCLT helps to develop responsible land stewardship which promotes the benefits of private land conservation.

5. SCLT secures conservation, historic preservation, and trail and access easements on a mix of important and strategically located properties throughout the County based on strategies that are consistent with public policy and approved by the board of directors.

6. SCLT works with a community of partners to foster the next generation of supporters.

7. The board and organization operate according to best management practices with written policies governing how the work is done. Written materials are known for simplicity and clarity. SCLT is eligible for LTA accreditation even if it elects not to seek such accreditation.

8. SCLT works with multiple public and private partners to identify opportunities to foster support, achieve its mission, and maintain financial sustainability.
9. SCLT will participate in land use planning and zoning processes to retain open space, agricultural landscapes, wildlife habitat, recreational access, and historic preservation.

10. SCLT staff is supported by a diverse corps of volunteers and a committed, engaged board focused on fundraising, outreach and strategic direction. SCLT staff is committed to working with the highest ethical standards and operating with open communication and close collaboration.

11. SCLT maintains sufficient funding from private donors, a broad membership base, the County and City one-cent tax, foundations, and distributions from a $2 million endowment. Donor retention is high and SCLT’s outreach efforts support fundraising and education about the relevance of SCLT’s mission.
