Best Practice -1

Title for the Practice: To Encourage Students to participate in extracurricular activities

The goal of the Institution is to encourage the students to participate in the curricular as well as extracurricular activities.

OBJECTIVE OF THE PRACTICE:

The aim of education should be to develop an all-round personality of the student in all aspects which includes student's intellectual, spiritual, social, physical and moral capabilities. There is a need to make a balance in all these aspects, so as to benefit the Students.

CONTEXT

Students learn new skills that are useful in their life and day-to-day activities such as teamwork, better social skills, and critical thinking. Students who participate in co-curricular activities develop better leadership skills and learn how to relate better with their peers than those who don't and they develop a sense of commitment to whatever they are involved in. This is because when they take part in whatever sports or club activity they are a member of, they have to commit to it and give their all, and this commitment extends to all other areas of their lives. Students who engage in extracurricular activities are exposed to a wide range of new activities such as sports, painting, drama, literary events, drill, singing etc.
