

I would like to propose that if a player is ejected from a game he automatically is suspended for the following game.

Article 11, Section 1B

This leaves it up to the board to decide if a player deserves an additional game.

I think we need to remove the guess work out of it. Sometimes a player can be ejected late in a game and essentially only miss an inning and then be right back the following week. This does not protect our umpires.