REPEAT AFTER ME ... EVENTS ARE FUN!

This weekend we had three events, two in New Jersey and one in Minnesota and guess what ... the weather did NOT cooperate! We had boiling hot weather at the West Orange Street Fair and, in spite of dire weather predictions of rain, it didn't rain!

That was not true at the Aitkin Farmers' Market where it not only rained but had horrid wind which put a damper on the farmers' ability to sell!

Now we go to Cuisine on the Green wine festival in Little Egg Harbor, NJ. Saturday was hot AND buggy! Of course it was near the shore so that is to be expected!

Conversely, on Sunday it never got above 57 degrees and very high winds (always so great with tents and glass displays!). In spite of that we got great feedback and will be doing the event again.

If any of you are in New Jersey, come on down to the Lakewood Blue Claws stadium (exit 89 off the GSP) where we are having the 8th Annual Jersey Shore Wine Festival ... eight wineries, 100+ wines, great entertainment and a broad range of food and crafters and vendors. (Tickets available at EventBrite).

I thought that Babe Ruth's quote was quite appropriate after this last weekend! Just keep swinging ... have a great couple of weeks and "bat" away!
