b. I found the lessons informative and helpful.

1. Yes  No

ii. I found myself searching hard for the answer that best suited my situation on several occasions. The choices available were, I felt, not always appropriate for me to choose from.

c. I have come to learn of the importance that a balanced life has on my ability to become a peak performing trader through the NT program.

1. Yes  No

ii. To be fair, I have been aware of this from 2nd Skies and and others material, but good to reinforce the point and I agree with it.

e. I have seen a change for the better in my primary relationships.

- 1. Yes  No

- ii. I don't think this course has particularly impacted this area for me because I was already aware of the need to work at and maintain my primary relationships. Which I do on a regular basis and can attest to how important it is.

2) One-on-One Mentoring:

a. I am currently doing the One-on-One Sessions with Ken or Chris.

- 1. Ken  Chris

- ii. Not yet, I've been travelling unexpectedly and extensively since the end of January between the US and Europe. Also, I really only have one question I'd like answered and it's not mindset related.

3) Trading results:

- a. I am seeing a positive change in my trading results because of the NT program.

1. Yes  No

- b. I attribute the positive change in my trading results to:

1. The Course work  Mentoring  Combination of both

f. I have a greater sense of positive expectancy in my trading results.

1. Yes  No

ii. I trade with a very disciplined plan which has a positive expectancy. Where I struggle is with the mathematical reality that cutting my trade size after losses makes it more difficult to regain the high water mark. i.e. you need more winning trades so the statistical positive expectancy of a system needs to increase if you reduce the trade size after losses.

g. My fear of success has decreased.

1. Yes  No

ii. Never been afraid of success.

h. I have less anxiety to exit winning trades prematurely than ever before.

1. Yes  No

ii. I've become much more relaxed about set and forget trading. So willing to set my expected R multiple and let it run either way.

4) GENERAL FEEDBACK:

i. What would I like to see in the NT program that would improve the effects for myself and other traders starting the same peak performance journey?

1. A more extensive set of answers to choose from in the multi-choice selections

2. Possibly add/share some anonymised real trader scenarios that relate to the lesson and how improving that aspect of their life/circumstances changed their results.

5) TESTIMONIAL

- a. Having completed this first phase of the NT program, please write a testimonial for other traders in the space provided below.
  1. Anyone that strives to perform at a high level in any activity is constantly looking for ways to improve their skills. If you hope to achieve consistent high performance in trading then you need to understand the links between your environment, your mindset and your trading performance. This course helps to unpack those areas for you and will give you a good understanding of the environment and mindset issues that stand between you and the trading performance you are aiming for.
