

OUR PROJECT

Inspired by this success, our Company has now entered a new phase of business with a new identity "GLOFII". Through this company, our team has come up with a new project under which we will build integrated farms by taking farmer's land on lease. The objective of "GLOFII" is to bring maximum benefit to farmers with new technology in integrated farming.

We are proud to state that "GLOFII" has been formed keeping economic and social benefits in mind. Under this, we will write a new definition of entrepreneurship in integrated farming business, through innovation, technology, professionalism, experience, dedication and discipline, which will not only benefit the people of a particular region but also the development of the entire nation.

Considering the huge potential and requirements of Integrated farming in Rajasthan, our company is continuously working on the goal of growth of this business. To achieve this goal, we have a team of experienced people associated with the Integrated farming sector, including doctors-engineers and retired officers of many departments. Our team with years of experience will not only give farmer knowledge of every small and big technique related to this business, but they will also train them how to run it with continuous profit. The goal of our company is to contribute more and more to the growth of the farmers.
