Writing

Can you write a diary entry from either Hannah's point of view or the Gorilla's point of view, about their day? Use the checklist below to help you and the example of Little Red Riding Hood's diary entry.

Diary Writing Checklist

- The date is at the top
- Begins with Dear Diary
- Write about events in order using time conjunctions.
- Exclamation sentences for emphasis.
- Put yourself into the character's shoes using words such as; I, we, my, our.
- Write in the past tense.
- Include detail using conjunctions (or, and, but, when, if, that, because).
- Adjectives for description.
- Describe feelings.

Diary of Little Red Riding Hood

Saturday 4th May

Dear diary,

You are not going to believe the day I have had! First thing this morning, my mum told me I had to take some cakes to my poorly granny. I secretly wanted to stay and play in the garden but I felt bad for poor Granny so, I grumpily agreed. It was such a beautiful day as I walked through the woods, I just had to stop and pick some lovely red flowers.

Then suddenly, a wolf appeared from behind a tree! He was very charming and told me a shortcut to get to granny's house. I thought he seemed very clever so I stupidly believed him.

Finally, I got to Granny's house and I knew at once something strange was going on. Granny didn't look like herself at all. I asked Granny a lot of questions and just in time I worked out it wasn't Granny at all!

Next, a kind woodcutter came and helped me uncover the wolf and rescue poor granny. I felt very scared but I knew I had to be brave.

After that, the woodcutter took me home and Mum couldn't believe the adventure I'd had. Now it's well past my bedtime and I am very tired. I don't think I'll ever trust a wolf again!
