Richard's Creative Workshop

Hello, Friends!

TMNT Sewer

What's New

I started this build a while ago but put it down to concentrate on commissions I had on the go. After building three sewers I wanted to have one to expand upon the TMNT Lair I built earlier this year.

Hints and tips

I have started putting together useful guides on how to paint miniatures. Especially if you are colour blind like myself, having a guide and where to start I have found extremely helpful. I hope this helps you too!

The Final Frontier

We had a very successful weekend exhibiting, the children and many adults loved making an alien and placing it on my Lunar Scape diorama. Thank to all the staff for making us feel welcome and to everyone who visited and participated. Looking forward to next year!
