

Lively children's educational music programs

The Patagonia Winds

A professional wind quintet known to Maryland and Virginia audiences since 2010 for its dynamic programming that the whole family can enjoy!

The ensemble's lively "Windy Stories" program is a fun and interactive program designed to introduce K-5 students to classical music through the medium of storytelling! The program explores the instruments in a woodwind quintet using favorite movie music and ends with a dynamic retelling of Prokofiev's classic tale "Peter and the Wolf."

Check the official Patagonia Winds website for sound clips, photo gallery and more details. Book today for a memorable program that will bring classical music to life for your students!
