

Born in São Paulo, Lucas Figueiredo started his musical studies playing the clarinet in the city of Piracaia, in the country side of São Paulo – Brazil. Through years of hard work, he had the opportunity to participate in several groups in the Bragantine Region, such as the Youth Big Band of Atibaia and the Youth Symphonic Band of Bragança Paulista.

By playing with the Youth Orchestra Tom Jobim – EMESP he was able to perform in some of the most important theaters of the State of São Paulo like the Latin America Memorial, the MASP Auditorium, the São Pedro theater and Sala São Paulo with great artists of Brazilian music such as Roberto Sion, Nelson Ayres, Monica Salmaso, Tatiana Parra, Benjamim Tuabkim, Marcos Suzano, Ricardo Herz, Nailor Proveta, among others.

He won the Young Soloist prize into the Tom Jobim Youth Orchestra in 2014 and Latin Grammy Cultural Foundation award 2016. Lucas received a scholarship for the first year of the bachelor's degree in the Conservatorium van Amsterdam – Holland. Since then he has been developing his solo work in Europe.

Playing solo, he shared the stage with several artists of Brazilian instrumental music like Edu Ribeiro, Paulo Braga, Marinho Andreotti, Eduardo Neves, Moises Alves, Daniel Sá, Michel Dorfman, Renato Borghetti, among others.

At the moment Lucas's student of the Master's Program at Conservatorium van Amsterdam, winner of the Jazz Contest Bucharest 2017 with AG Quintet and Latin Grammy Cultural Foundation 2016 and member of JM World Jazz Orchestra 2019. Among some groups that he could join in Netherlands, he had the opportunity to play with the Dutch Concert Big Band, Jazz Orchestra of Concertgebouw, Four Tops and Temptations and the Metropole Orkest Akademie.

With CvA Big Band he had the opportunity to play with big names such as Jasper Blom, Simon Rigter, Ferdinand Povel, David Linx, Dennis Mackrell and Alex Sipiagin.

Since September 2018, Lucas's a regular member of Millenium Jazz Orchestra, a Jazz Orchestra that exist among 32 years and now is touring around Netherlands performing and celebrating Bernstein pieces along the biggest and renowned concert halls in the Dutch lands.