

I am so looking forward to teaching a live yoga group class this Fall! I have missed all of you!

A Little Housekeeping:

- I need a definitive head count in order to hold space in my planner for the class. If you are planning on joining me, help me out by signing up early. The deadline to sign up is firm at 10/1.
- On the other end of that, in the past my classes have been full, and I host only small classes, so it is a great idea to sign up early anyways, because I don't know if we will have this opportunity again.
- Masks will be optional (unless the govt makes it mandatory in October). I will be wearing my mask, but I trust you to do what is right for you.
- The decision to hold live classes was one I thought hard about because I love it but it takes a lot of time and effort to organize these classes, so trust me, I want it to go smooth, but if we have to go to virtual midway through, then we will as a group...but I hope not. I will do everything I can to keep us in person. Even the possibility of continuing outside, if the weather permits. Note, the virtual option will only be available if there is a govt mandate/shutdown, not on an individual basis.
- If for any reason you cannot make all 4 of the classes (scheduling conflict, something comes up, etc.), you can share them with another person (sell, gift, whatever, not my business). When you sign up, you are registering for your spot, how you use it is up to you. Once you register, it is final, no refunds for any reason.
