ARTICLE OF THE WEEK

UNIFEATHERS SAYS “CAN YOU REMEMBER THE RIGHTS WE HAVE LOOKED AT SO FAR?”

That’s right they are ...

Article 24 – the right to the best health possible and medical care and information that will help you stay that way.

Article 12 – the right to an opinion and for it to be listened to and taken seriously.

INTRODUCING... ARTICLE 7

Jenny introduces Article 7

Article 7 – birth registration, name, nationality, care

Every child has the right to be registered at birth, to have a name and nationality, and, as far as possible, to know and be cared for by their parents.

HOW CAN YOUR NAME & NATIONALITY BE RESPECTED?

- By people calling you by your preferred name (shortened or in full)
- Your name being pronounced properly and spelt correctly
- Having a birth certificate
- Having a passport (if you need to travel out of the UK)
- You are encouraged to be proud of your name and nationality.
- You get a chance to celebrate your national identity perhaps with a special day, food or music.
- Where possible, to know and be cared for by your parents - it might be two parents, or it might be one parent, or someone else in your family, like a grandparent or an aunt or uncle or maybe a carer, an adult who children live with, and are looked after by

Can you think of any more ways?

ACTIVITY TIME

The activities on the next two slides are related to....

Have you ever been to a naming and welcoming ceremony, like a christening or aqiqah? Write a short description of what happened or share what you remember by telling someone about it. Find out about naming ceremonies from other faiths or cultures.

Read The Name Jar or watch the video

Draw an identity hand!
Draw around one of your hands, write your full name in the thumb area, in the next finger, write your date of your birth, put the country you call home in the next finger. Then in the last two fingers, write the names of two adults who are important for you, like your parents, carers or grandparents. Draw the flag of your nationality on the palm. Share these with your teacher.

Create a sign with your name on – this could be with paper and pen, paint or a collage with indoor or outdoor materials. Maybe you could put it on your bedroom door.

You don't need to do every single activity but if you have time you can do more than one.

ACTIVITY TIME

Ask your family about your name? Is there are reason you were given that name? Talk to your friends or family about their names. Do you know if they have a middle name? Do they like their names? Would they ever change them? Imagine if someone decided you had to have a new name, without your agreement. How would you feel?

What is your nationality? Do you know what the national flag looks like? Look at other flags, pick a favourite and find out which country it belongs to. Talk to your family about how you celebrate your nationality? Perhaps through days like Burns' Night, St George's Day or Chinese New Year?

A coat of arms of a family, town or organisation is a special design in the form of a shield that they use as a symbol of their identity. Design your own coat of arms with things that represent your identity - perhaps the things you like to do such as hobbies or sports.

REFLECTION

Try to spend a few minutes thinking about these questions and chat to someone at home about them.

- Spend a few moments being quiet and still.. think about who you are, your name, your nationality, the people who care for you.
- Do you always show respect for the right to a name and nationality in your life at home or school?
- How does your school protect this right?
- What could you do today to show respect for this right?
