Principle 2 – Product Lifecycle Sustainability

1. List up to 3 of your products or services whose design has incorporated social or environmental concerns, risks and/or opportunities.

   (a) Bloom SOFC and Hydrogen units
   (b) Ball Screws
   (c) Water Lubricated Bearings

2. For each such product, provide the following details in respect of resource use (energy, water, raw material etc.) per unit of product (optional):

   (a) Reduction during sourcing/production/distribution achieved since the previous year throughout the value chain:

   Bloom Hot Boxes

   We supply SOFC hot boxes (power units) for Fuel cell applications to Bloom Energy USA. Fuel cells generate power from Methane. This source has 66.66% less carbon footprint compared to thermal power plants.

   We have also adopted lean methodology that resulted in savings in terms of raw material, and energy consumption. Also, we have indigenized fins which we were previously importing from Japan. This has led to reduction in transportation and shipping, thus reducing our carbon footprint.

   Recently we have developed prototypes for Hydrogen boxes and electrolyzers in collaboration with Bloom Energy. Hydrogen boxes use hydrogen to generate power that contribute to further reductions in emissions as compared to SOFC units. We have developed a prototype of Electrolyzers in collaboration with Bloom Energy that produce green hydrogen from steam. In addition, during the manufacturing of SOFC and hydrogen units we are recruiting apprentices from local colleges and training them on various manufacturing technologies, and absorbing some of them post the training, thereby contributing to the development of local skilled talent during our product lifecycle.

   Ball Screws

   MTAR has indigenized Ball Screws that find application in diverse sectors such as Civil Nuclear Power, Defence and Space. Over the years we have achieved a significant product cycle time reductions in the entire manufacturing process by process improvements which has resulted in energy as well as resource savings. Further, till date MTAR is the sole supplier of customized precision ball screws in India, eliminating the need for organizations of national strategic importance such as NPCIL, ISRO to import the same, thereby reducing their project timelines as well as preventing emissions through shipments.

   Water Lubricated Bearings

   MTAR has indigenized Water lubricated Bearings used in Pressurized Heavy Water Nuclear Reactors in Civil Nuclear power. Over the years we have achieved a significant product cycle time reduction through process improvements that have resulted in reduced energy savings as well as resource consumption. MTAR continues to be the sole supplier of WLBS to NPCIL, thereby preventing the emissions through shipments because of import of the products.

In addition, as a standard operating procedure, our supply chain team practices volume consolidation to import multiple raw material in a single shipment. Lead time and minimum order quantities are evaluated well in advance in order to minimize the number of shipments and get the shipments through sea. We also try and reuse transportation containers for up to 5 to 10 shipments so as to minimize the requirement for containers.

Our experienced partner organizations have dedicated teams as well as volunteers to ensure the outreach of our initiatives to the target segment. As such in the chosen segments of our initiatives, in most cases the beneficiaries are badly in need of the support extended. Hence, the possibility of rejection of the same by the community or beneficiary is significantly limited. At the same time, we regularly interact with our partner organisations to track the progress and status of the various initiatives.

4. Did your company carry out any consumer survey / consumer satisfaction trends?

Owing to our very niche products and limited customer base, there are on-going customer interactions as well as joint inspections during the process of manufacture of each of our products. The entire cycle right from raw material sourcing to final acceptance of finished product by the customer involves a series of interaction, feedback as well as customer approval at every stage. In addition, our business heads routinely interact with customers and receive feedback from them on a regular basis. We have received various letters of appreciation, citations and awards from our customers.
