SKYY CONSULTING LTD October 2019 semi – annual newsletter

Dear friends and clients

Welcome to the Autumn edition of our newsletter. It is truly amazing how this season always brings us energy to pursue new goals and seek new ventures. People settle down from the summer holidays, children head back to school and at SKYY Consulting we take a moment to get in touch with you all and to send you our best wishes for this most transitional of seasons.

A brief overview of news and updates includes,

~ How is climate change being managed? It seems that much of the fight against climate change is not happening on the streets or in national legislatures but in technology companies and industry groups who seek data and new patents to manage the problem. Will humanity rise and face this vital challenge? Can the Amazon rain forest be saved? Can we, humans, create for world today and for the future generations a greener and safer planet, without compromising on the struggle to evolve and grow? Will technology provide the answer?

~ In the US apart from the first official doubts on the "vaping" habit and the escalating tensions with Iran over the oil attacks, with the elections only a year away, the political scene is heating up with an impeachment investigation against the president. With the majority of the American people long opposed on impeaching the president, the Congress decision to do so will show whether the public opinion will shift or not.

~ Although the trade disputes between China and the United States along with general trade tensions are causing concerns for the global economy, for some countries seem to create opportunities. Despite a pessimistic approach that seems to be forming on the global economics, economists emphasize that political factors alone very rarely trigger recessions. The markets are ready to embrace any good news and march higher.

~ The UK, deal or no deal, is due to leave the EU by October 31st unless something changes. Despite the high degree of uncertainty Sterling is holding up well. A deal should give the country a grace period to prepare for life outside the Union while the opposite will leave the UK at the beginning of a new period in which international and business affairs will have to be re-established. Business has been calling for clarity on Brexit but, at least until now, there doesn't seem to be any progress.

~ In Cyprus the economic sentiment in September improved and according to analysts is due to stronger business confidence in services and industry as well as to confidence improvements among consumers. The recent demise of Thomas Cook increases the challenges for the local tourism industry but at the same time it accelerates the procedure for the promotion of reforms and the creation of a new brand for the country. In the construction sector the number of building permits for new homes has risen since last year while grant schemes and new guidelines for the structural and energy upgrade of properties provide help and support to the sector.

At SKYY Consulting Ltd we love what we do and with devotion, dedication, and communication we invest the maximum in each case we take on. Design and build of near net zero energy buildings, restoration and improvement of existing properties, implementation of appropriate energy performance specifications on buildings, property due diligence, design and execution of land and building divisions, title deeds assignments are among our services through which we offer innovative and reliable solutions.

Let's take advantage of this season of harvest, energy and tranquillity and explore our dreams and intuitive powers. Enjoy the season and speak soon
