live-in care*

Thank you for your enquiry to Corinium Care

Corinium Care specialises in the provision of high quality live-in carers for elderly and vulnerable adults who wish to remain in the comfort of their own home.

Since our local beginnings in 1995, Corinium Care has grown to become one of the leading providers of live-in care in the UK. From our base in Gloucestershire, we are able to help clients across the country to remain independent for as long as possible, permitting them to enjoy the things they have always loved to do, in a safe and secure environment.

Our clients receive one-to-one personalised care of the highest standard from comprehensively trained carers. The carer can prepare nutritious home-cooked meals, ensure the home runs smoothly and allow individuals to enjoy their interests and hobbies whilst all care needs are met. We also care for well loved pets. This allows people to remain as independent as possible, so they are able to exercise choice over their daily routine in the familiar environment of home.

We pride ourselves on our trusted reputation in the live-in care industry and having an active voice in the sector. Our belief in team ethos and the highest standards for both our clients and our carers is central to our success.

“The live-in care agency where the personal touch is at the heart of all we do”

“I can't speak more highly of the service we have had from you. All our carers have been delightful and easy to live with.”

Our live-in care service

Corinium Care is one of the UK's leading live-in care providers. As development of the organisation continues, we have never lost sight of the importance of a personal service dedicated to meeting the individual needs of our clients, their families and their carer.

Our clients come to us with varying health conditions. Many have a history of dementia, from short-term memory loss to advanced Alzheimer's disease or vascular dementia. Others are living with long-term diseases such as Parkinson's disease, cancer or stroke. We also offer excellent short-term respite or post-operative care packages.

Whatever their needs, our clients' wellbeing and peace of mind always comes first. This is one of the reasons Corinium Care has achieved a 'Good' rating from the Care Quality Commission.

We have an office-based Client Services Manager who stays in regular contact to check that care is going smoothly. Our 24-hour emergency line ensures we can always be reached for emergency advice even when the office is closed.

“ I cannot praise Corinium Care too highly. What is impressive is the endless trouble the office staff take to find the right people to fit in with our idiosyncratic household. They are endlessly kind, cooking wonderful meals, cheerfully carrying out the odd household duty, chatting up my two adored greyhounds and generally putting their hand to anything. I cannot thank them and their delightful office staff enough. ”

“Corinium Care were superb. They provided well trained, highly professional and delightful carers.”

Our live-in carers

After more than 20 years providing care, we know just how important it is for our clients to have the right person alongside them, offering both full-time care and companionship at a vulnerable time. That's why our live-in carers are second to none.

Because we place such emphasis on quality care, training for carers is an important part of Corinium Care's policy, and we are one of the few organisations to provide in-house training.

Initially all our carers, irrespective of previous experience, undergo a five-day training course at our head office in Gloucestershire. Over those five days, carers are assessed for suitability and competence in aspects of care such as moving and handling, personal care, First Aid and dementia awareness. At the same time, all carers are vetted for their aptitude for this sensitive work and are individually interviewed.

Our carers come from all walks of life but what they have in common is a caring nature, and a desire to make their client feel safe and comfortable in their own home.

We only recruit the very best.

We seek to place a carer who will:

- Give support and gentle companionship to all clients enabling them to remain in their own homes for as long as they wish.
- Respect the client's dignity, privacy and choice at all times.
- A carer who will assist with all personal care tasks, depending on the client's individual needs.
- Encourage and help the client to do as much for him/herself as possible, no matter how small their contribution may be.
- A carer who will undertake light housework, cooking and shopping duties, in accordance with the client's wishes.

“I am in debt to you for your help, advice and professionalism these past years. My mother's life has been enhanced and prolonged as the result of Corinium's input and carers.”

The first steps to care

If you'd like to arrange live-in care, in the first instance please telephone or e-mail the office and a member of our Care Management team will be happy to discuss your individual requirements.

If you decide to proceed further, an appointment will be made for a free home assessment visit so that we can meet you personally and start to develop an individual care plan. If you then decide to go ahead with care, our team will work hard to match your preferences to a suitable carer.

Once care has started we will regularly phone or write to you, whichever you prefer; and your Care Manager will arrange to visit you personally. We adapt care plans to ensure they are flexible and match changing needs.

Feedback from our clients is actively encouraged and it is essential to ensure you remain happy with our service.

Realising the importance of continuity to both our clients and their families, we try to ensure a regular rota of familiar faces

Our carers are compassionate and kindly with a cheery sense of humour
