CCA Writers' Conference for High School Students

The Canyon Crest Academy Creative Writing Club is pleased to announce that the 9th Annual CCA Writers' Conference, the only FREE writing conference for high school students in the country, will be held on Saturday, March 28, 2020.

We are excited to announce that our keynote speaker will be Gretchen McNeil an award winning YA horror/suspense novelist. Previous speakers include best-selling YA authors such as Jonathan Mayberry, Nancy Holder, Susan Dennard, Lissa Price, and Kiersten White, as well as many other local writing professionals. We anticipate hosting approximately 230 high school students from 34 high schools in San Diego to attend. The Creative Writing Club works hard year round to raise money to pay for facilities, speaker stipends, travel expenses for out of town speakers, materials, and other expenses. Authors receive a small stipend, which covers travel costs. We are looking for individuals who will underwrite the cost of an author to speak at the conference.

We hope you can be part of ensuring this unique and amazing CCA tradition continues. Please consider being a sponsor!
