Chicago IL: Northwest Suburban College celebrated their first cultural night on July 23rd, 2011 at Monty's Banquet Hall. The program was well attended by folks of different walks of life such as literary, music lovers and soofi poetry fans. "It was a fete", according to Dr. Rooma Gurg. It was the soofi music at its best and a reminder of great maestro Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan. Bilal Chishti also known as Dhruv Sangari - a young man from New Delhi who started learning music at the age of 7 and developed a passion for Soofi Music by the age of 13 - enthralled the audience with his self immersed rendering of the greats such as Ameer Khusro, Kabir Daas, Bulle Shah and others.

The program was arranged at a short notice of two weeks by diverting Mr. Sangari from returning to India, according to Rashid Salam the main organizer and the Administrator of the college. Nahid AliNiazee, daughter of Dr. M. T. AliNiazee - the founder of the college, introduced the mission and vision of Northwest Suburban College. Dr. Khalid Sami Chairman of the Board of Regents, thanked the audience and the volunteers for managing a great event with grand success.

Northwest Suburban College is located in Rolling Meadows and offers accelerated Pre-Medical program and also short term, jobs oriented certificate programs. The college can be reached at (847) 290-6425
