

Police Blotter

Glenwood Post: May 25, 1901

He's a Bird.

A gentleman who came in from Minn-turn on Thursday evening's train walked up to the Hotel Glenwood and registered as John Crow of St. Louis. He was shown to a room but soon returned to the office where he exhibited evidences of a deranged mind. He returned to his room once more but soon rushed down stairs shouting excitedly to "call an officer! Call an officer! Hurry up, call an officer." The obliging night clerk took Mr. Crow at his word and called policeman Malaby who thought the room assigned to Crow was not suitable to one in his condition. Malaby found a cage for him at the county jail where he will remain pending an investigation for lunacy.
