

Broadway Musical Lectures on Zoom

By Steven Friedman

Dialogue Distinguished Lecture Series

Dr. Robert Watson,
Moderator

HAMILTON

The Creation of a Phenomenon

Thursday December 3, 2020
7:00 PM

Who would have imagined that a founding father could become a musical- one that most had never heard of. How did the genius Lin Manuel Miranda create the success and masterpiece?

Sponsored by Ron & Pam Cohen

Bernstein & Robbins

A Complicated Creative Energy

Thursday January 7, 2021
7:00 PM

Leonard Bernstein was the “wunderkind” of the New York Philharmonic and Jerome Robbins was the rising creator of the ballet world. Their partnership created wonderful musicals but these were not without true emotional complications. Examine the complicated men behind the great works and what they created.

Cities of the World as a Backdrop

Thursday February 4, 2021
7:00 PM

How about Florence, Paris , London, Verona? Not to mention countless other foreign locales that are the backdrops of many musicals. Be it “Les Miz”, Phantom of the Opera, Light in the Piazza, or even Kiss Me Kate, foreign cities have been the background plot devices in many musicals. Take world trip without leaving a theatre seat in this lecture.

Town Hall on the State of Politics

Thursday November 5, 2020
12:00 PM

A public town hall on the election, COVID-19 pandemic, Black Lives Matter and other vital issues to our community and the nation, including the leaders' agenda for 2021:

- Congressman Ted Deutch
- Senator Lori Berman
- Mayor Scott Singer

Making Movies with Meaning Josh Aronson

Friday February 12, 2021
12:00 PM

Aronson is an Academy Award-nominated filmmaker whose works are regularly seen on Netflix, PBS, Showtime, and television stations worldwide. He has directed several feature films, MTV videos, TV shows, and more than 500 commercials. His biography, “Orchestra of Exiles,” was published by Penguin Books and he is also a concert pianist who regularly performs chamber music in New York City and at the Telluride Musicfest. Aronson’s new film, “To Be of Service,” is a documentary about veterans with PTSD and service dogs, and has been nominated for awards and accepted at international film festivals.

Trafficking Among Us: A Conversation with a Survivor

Wednesday March 31, 2021
12:00 PM

Kat is an author, federal consultant, trainer and international survivor leader, as well as the executive director of There Is HOPE For Me Inc., a nonprofit survivor-to-survivor peer mentoring agency working in Florida and California to end human trafficking.

To Register for Broadway Musical Lectures:
[https://templeshaareishalom.shulcloud.com/
event/broadway-musical-lectures-on-zoom.html](https://templeshaareishalom.shulcloud.com/event/broadway-musical-lectures-on-zoom.html)

To Register for Distinguished Lecture Series:
<https://www.lynn.edu/events>