Buying Food for Your Patrol

Managing the food-buying task for your patrol is a very important job!

Your patrol members are going to be hungry and unhappy if you don't buy enough food and. Leftover food is often wasted if you buy too much. A Scout is Thrifty is an important Scout Law to remember. You must keep track of which patrol members are going and if they have paid their money. Knowing your budget, planning your meals, and managing your funds are a big part of being successful in this leadership task.

Plan the menu with your patrol

Get a firm count of how many patrol members are going at the campout prep meeting. If you have 10 patrol members and 7 have said they are going and paid, your budget is $70, not $100. Once you know the number going camping, use the Troop Menu Planner and plan to buy only as much food as your patrol will need. Buying too much food will cost your patrol extra money and is often wasteful. Stay within your budget.

Save all your receipts

Place them in an envelope labeled with your name and Patrol, and the total cost of the food, ice and supplies. Buying food for the patrol is supposed to be a break-even proposition. As Grubmaster, it is your responsibility to stay within your food budget. Spending beyond your budget must be approved by your patrol members.

Packing the food

Do you like squished bread for sandwiches? Pack the food in ways to protect it in the coolers and while it is transported to the campsite. Remove excess wrappings to reduce weight and trash at the campsite. Zip-lock type plastic bags are an excellent choice. At-home preparation will also make cooking at camp easier and quicker.

- Scrambled eggs? Scramble the raw eggs at home and placed in a tightly sealed container.
- Diced meats and veggies (chicken, carrots, celery)? Wash and dice at home and put in separate zip bags.
- Bacon or sausage? Pre-cook at home. Works great and eliminates grease to make clean-up easier.

It is easier to prepare meals inside in a nice warm kitchen with running water than outside in a barren cold campsite with pouring rain!

After the campout

The Scout who bought the food is responsible for removing all food from the patrol boxes and coolers and disposing of it. Spoiled or ruined food is thrown out. Food that is okay should be offered to be split among patrol members.

The Parent's role

Parental advice, input, and transportation are important to the Grubmaster's success. The Grubmaster is the Scout. He is expected to plan and purchase for the outing. This means that the Grubmaster goes to the store also, not just the parent(s). Parental advice about nutrition and price comparison at the store is important.

Planning Meals

Preparation Time

Plan your meals so they can be prepared, eaten and cleaned up within the time constraints of the weekend program. A camp-out with a planned activity schedule will offer a limited specific time for meals (Fall Camporee). Other outings allow more time for meals.

Budget

A weekend campout food budget is $10.00 per Scout. Other outings, where patrol cooking is not possible for the entire camp, will have their cost determined early in the planning process and communicated to the Scouts. Always save all your receipts and turn them in at the next Troop meeting.

Nutritional Concerns

Review your menu to see that it is balanced nutritionally. Represent the four basic food groups at every meal.

- Group 1: Breads, cereals, rice, pasta (up to 11 servings per day)
- Group 2: Fruits (4-5 servings per day) & Vegetables (4-5 servings per day)
- Group 3: Milk, yogurt, cheese (2-3 servings per day) & meat, fish, eggs, beans (7 oz per day)
- Group 4: Fats, oils, sugars (use small amounts)

Notes on Meals

- Breakfast: Sunday morning is busy with packing and preparing for the trip home, so a simple breakfast is best. Something warm is good during the cold months. Have a hot drink (cocoa or tea), fruit and an easy to fix main dish that doesn't need a lot of clean-up. Consider having bagels and cream cheese.
- Lunch: Saturday lunch should be another simple meal as there is often not a lot of time to prepare, serve and cleanup. Have a build-your own sandwich with some soup and fruit.
- Dinner: A full dinner is welcome at the end of an active day. Typically there is more time to prepare, serve and clean up so a nice meal can be planned. This should include fruit or salad, a main course, some side dishes of vegetables or starch (potatoes, pasta, etc.) and even a dessert. A carefully planned and prepared dinner can really brighten up a weekend.

The goal for every troop outing is that each patrol is responsible for its food and meals, and that each scout is provided with tasty balanced meals at each appropriate dining time.

Meals needed for Campouts with a Friday evening departure.

- Friday Dinner – eat prior to departure or driver may elect to stop for fast food.
 Cracker Barrel – after camp set-up.

- Saturday Breakfast – Fully cooked from scratch.

Adult Leaders and Parents

Adult leaders and parents camp and eat together. They do not camp or eat with the Scout Patrols. They intervene only when the safety or health of a Scout is at stake. The Scout Patrol Leader is responsible for seeing that all arrangements for patrol cooking are completed. An adult leader or parent may mentor (demonstrate once) or offer advice (talk to) the Patrol Leader, Grubmaster, or Scouts, but they do not do the cooking or cleanup for the Patrol.

Grubmaster Timeline

3 weeks before camp

- ☐ Patrol decides who is going to be Grubmaster.
- ☐ Start meal planning – if you have anything left over from the last campout, use this first.

2 weeks before camp

- ☐ Finish the meal planning and get Patrol leader (and other) approval(s).
- ☐ Let the Patrol Quartermaster know what equipment is needed for cooking.
- ☐ Patrol Leader should check to see if anyone needs cooking for their rank.

1 week before camp

- ☐ Review everything with the Patrol Leader.
- ☐ Check with the Patrol Quartermaster that all equipment needed is available.

Meeting Before Campout

- ☐ Make sure you have cooler and dry food storage box.
- ☐ Purchase all supplies, keep receipts for Patrol Scripe.

The day of departure

- ☐ Inform the Patrol Leader that you have all the food for the trip.

Recap of Menu Requirements

1. The menu must be planned at a Troop meeting two weeks before the campout.
2. The menu plan must be approved by the SPL and scoutmaster.
3. All meals will correspond to the four basic food groups.
4. Meals must be fully prepared at the campout.
5. No hot dog-type meals (except around the campfire as a snack).
6. Soft drinks are not allowed. Water is always available as dehydration is a major concern due to the physical activity at outings.
7. Food preparation is always directed toward fulfilling the requirements of the 1st Class or cooking merit badge.
8. Recipes should come from the Scout Field Book, the Boy Scout Handbook, or other approved cookbooks.
9. Stay within your budget.

An adult's advice, guidance, and help are needed to get to the store and prepare the food. The Scout plans the menu, goes to the store, selects and purchases the food and may need to do some pre- preparation before the campout.
