New York

F&A was retained by the Town of Shandaken and the New York City Department of Environmental Protection to review, under SEQRA, a controversial 573-acre mixed-use conference center, including hotels, golf courses, a health spa, a ski resort and several hundred upscale residential units at Belleayre in the Catskill watershed, to be known as Belleayre Resort at Catskill Park. Issues of concern to the Town include air and water quality, traffic, drainage, visual, fiscal, socio-economic and community character impacts. The project is pending approvals.
