Sorry, I couldn't feel any stronger
 I know you're out there, but I can't hold on much longer,
 Waiting for you at Treptower station, feeling the river's spray
 I know there always was a wall between you and me
 I've worked it out for the first time; now I see
 These tears of mine, please don't let them start
 Time will wear down, time to tear down
 Walls around your heart.
