

www.RickDeBruhl.com

Rick DeBruhl

- Master of Communication
- Emmy award winning network broadcaster
- Chief Communication Officer
- Master's Degree in Media Management

COMMUNICATION COACHING:

- Media Training – Whether it's an interview you want, or one you dread, I can help make it a positive experience. I've helped thousands of people through their first interview and I can help you as well.
- Presentation Coaching – Presentations are critical for landing new contracts or moving up the career ladder. I can help with everything from speech training and PowerPoints to choreographing major presentations that deliver maximum impact.
- Crisis Communication – In addition to being certified in crisis communication, I've spent more than 30 years interviewing people and companies in crisis, and another decade as a Chief Communication Officer. I have insight into how you can successfully survive a crisis.
- Messaging – Mission and vision statements try to be lofty, but too often are vague or bland. One study found only 14% of employees understand the company strategy. Effectively communicating a strategy that people can actually understand will improve profits!

KEYNOTE SPEAKER:

Rick's presentation, Communicating at the Right Speed is a fun and entertaining way to help any group understand the importance of great communication.

"Rick's keynote of Communicating at the Right Speed captivated the group's attention beyond the meeting. He was masterful in his story telling to entertain while seamlessly delivering a key message to business owners and managers of people."

S.S., Delta Faucet Company.

BOOK:

Communicating at the Right Speed is a great way to get practical suggestions on how to improve communication in the workplace.

