

Privacy Policy

We know the value of protecting your privacy and data protection rights. The Internet is a compelling medium when it comes to transmitting personal information; For this reason, we and all other companies that belong to the Survivor Match are seriously committed to respecting the laws concerning the security of personal data and their security, to guarantee a safe, controlled and confidential navigation. For its users who visit or use the website (You as a "user") or, therefore, register on our services. This privacy statement describes how we ("Survivor Match", "we", "we," "our") collect, use, process and disclose your personal information in combination with the access and use of our website and services or other means connected to the sites (such as communicating with our customer service by chat or electronic mail).

Modification of these Terms.

From time to time, we may change the Privacy Statement. You are responsible for periodically reviewing this Privacy Policy. Your continued use of the site after the posting of changes to the Privacy Policy indicates your acceptance of these changes. Unless we give you a specific notice, no change in our Privacy Policy will apply retroactively.

Your Consent

Before we can process your data, we will ask you to agree to certain processing activities. Please note that if you have previously expressed your consent, you may withdraw freely at any time by forwarding an email to us. If you reverse your approval, and if we have no other legal grounds for the processing, we will manage your data. Please note that if we need to use your personal information to operate the website or provide our services, but you have discussed or disagree with us to handle your personal information, website or our services may become inaccessible to you.

Information We Collect

When you visit our website or use any of our services, we may collect the following categories of information:

Personal data provided by you directly to us

This Website does not collect personally identifiable information from your computer when you browse the Website and request pages from our servers. This means that, unless you voluntarily and knowingly provide us with personally identifiable information, we will not know your name, your email address, or any other personally identifiable information.

Other information

Other information is all information that does not specifically identify you and is collected through technology, including tracking information collected by third parties. Other information includes:

- Information on your computer, mobile device or other device used to access the Services, such as the type and brand of the device, the operating system, the unique device identifiers, the browser type, the browser's client ID, the language of the browser, the Internet service provider;
- Information about the use of our Services, such as the reading history of the pages you visit;
- Social Media: You may be able to use your social media login (such as Facebook Login) to create and log into your Survivor Match account. This saves you from having to remember yet another user name and password and allows you to share some information from your social media account with us.
- Additional traffic data, such as access time, visitor identification, traffic channel, traffic source, average traffic, campaign name, access date, software error reports, identification number of the session, access and the addresses of the reference site;
- User download data. For example, this may include information about what videos you download and your average download speed. It allows us to choose our content partners and notify us if downloads become slow or unreliable.
- Location data, such as your IP address, geolocation information (longitude and latitude); Survivor Match may use and store data about your location if you give us consent to do so ("Location Data").

We use this data to provide the functionality of our service, to improve and personalize our services.

- You can enable or disable location services when using our service at any time through your device settings.
- Demographic data and other information provided by you that does not reveal your specific identity;
- Other information that has been added in a way that no longer reveals your specific identity.

Through your browser or device.

Some information, such as MAC address (Media Access Control), computer type (Windows or Mac), screen resolution, operating system name, and version, etc. are automatically collected from most browsers or from the device. The manufacturer and model of the device, the language, the type of Internet browser, and the name and version of the service you are using. We use this information to make sure that the service works correctly.

Usage Data

We may also collect information that your browser sends whenever you visit our service or when you access the service via a mobile device ("Data usage"). This usage data may include information such as the computer's IP address (eg IP address), browser type, browser version, service pages you visit, date and time of the visit, time dedicated to these pages, exclusive information. Device identifiers and other diagnostic data.

When accessing the service via a mobile device, usage data can include information such as the type of mobile device being used, the unique ID of the mobile device, the IP address of the mobile device, the mobile operating system, type of mobile Internet browser that uses unique device identifiers and other diagnostic data.

IP Address

As mentioned above, we collect and save the IP address of your device. Your internet service provider will automatically assign your IP address to your computer. The IP address represents the device's general location (city, state, country, and continent) when accessing the service. We can use the IP address of your device to:

- Customize offers and promotions for our services and special events.
- Customize the ads you receive.
- Optimize our products, services, and operations.
- Detect, investigate and prevent activities that may violate our policies or be illegal
- Identify the country in which you are located in order to assess your legal obligations. AND
- Run site user statistics, demographics, and marketing analytics.

Other Partners

We may receive info about you from our partners, for instance where Survivor Match ads are published on a partner's websites and platforms (in which case they may pass along details on a campaign's success).

WHY WE COLLECT AND PROCESS YOUR PERSONAL DATA

We are extremely serious about your privacy and use your personal information, except for legal reasons and in accordance with the law on the protection of personal data, for purposes such as:

- Create and manage your account
- to ensure that the content of our site is displayed on your device in the most effective way;
- to fulfill our obligations under any agreements entered into between you and Survivor Match.

Using the Services, you may choose to disclose personal information:

- In the contact forms and other services for which it is possible to publish information and content.

Pay attention to what you disclose and do not disclose any personal information that you plan to keep confidential.

With your consent or at your request

We may ask for your consent to share your information with third parties. In any such case, we will make it clear why we want to share the information. We may use and share non-personal information (meaning information that, by itself, does not identify who you are such as device information, general demographics, general behavioral data, geolocation in de-identified form), as well as personal information in hashed, non-human readable form, under any of the above circumstances. We may also share this information with other third parties to develop and deliver targeted advertising on our services and on websites of third parties and to analyze and report on advertising you see.

Reserve of Data

Survivor Match will store your personal data only for the time required for the purposes stated in this Privacy Policy. We will retain and use your Personal Data to the extent necessary to meet our legal obligations (for example, if we are required to withhold your information to comply with applicable laws), resolve disputes, and enforce our legal contracts and policies. Survivor Match will also retain usage data for internal analysis purposes. Usage Data is generally held for a shorter period of time, except when such data is used to enhance security or improve the functionality of our service, or we are legally required to maintain such data for longer periods of time.

Data Transfer

Your information, including Personal Data, may be transferred to and maintained on computers located outside of your state, province, country, or other governmental jurisdiction, where data protection laws may differ from those in your jurisdiction. If you are outside the country and choose to provide information to us, please note that we transfer the data, including Personal Data, to country and process it there. Your consent to this Privacy Policy, followed by submitting this information, is your consent to such transfer.

Safety

We take reasonable security measures to protect the personal data under our control from loss, misuse, and alteration. Personal data is stored in a protected database and sent by encrypted SSL protocol whenever the browser supports them. However, the Internet and email transmissions are not completely secure and are never error-free. In particular, emails sent and received from this site may not be secure. Therefore, special care should be taken when you decide which information to send us by email.

Pull Out

When we request this information, we offer you the opportunity to "refuse" the use of your personally identifiable information for a purpose. For example, when you register on the site, you can indicate your preferences in our registration form if you do not want to receive additional materials or warnings from us.

Web beacons can also be used. Web beacons (also known as "action tags," "tracking tags," or "single-pixel GIFs") collect information about the use of a particular site and are programmed to send a cookie. Invisible graphics

Links to other sites

We are not responsible for the practices adopted by sites linked to or from the Service, nor for the information or content contained therein. Moving from this service to another site using a link will invalidate our privacy policy. Your browsing and interactions with other sites, including sites linking to our site, are subject to the rules and policies specific to that site.

Children's Privacy

Protecting children's privacy is important to us. We do not knowingly transmit or collect personally identifiable information from children under the age of 18 to the Service without the permission of the parent or guardian. If you are a parent or legal guardian and believe that your child has provided us with information, you can send us an email. If it is proven that we collect personal information from the child without parental consent, we will take steps to remove that information from the server.

Changes To This Privacy Policy

Survivor Match may update or revise this policy from time to time. Accept that you will review this policy periodically. You are free to decide whether or not to accept a modified version of this policy, but to continue using our sites, you must accept this policy as amended. If you do not agree to the terms of this policy or any modified version of this policy, the only possibility is to stop using our service.

We recommend that you periodically review this Privacy Statement for any changes. Changes to this Privacy Policy are effective when posted on this page.
