Fall 2016 Update to Alternatives’ Ambassadors Circle Members
“The best part of Alternatives is having a chance to express how I feel.”

- Urban Arts Participant
A NOTE FROM JUDY GALL, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

This is our inaugural Ambassadors Circular and part of our effort to keep you more updated on our impact. Last year, Alternatives worked with more than 4,000 young people and trained more than 1,200 teachers and administrators within the Chicago Public Schools. These are growing numbers, but they don’t show the full impact of our work.

Here are just a few statistics from the past year:

• Career and Employment Services
  88% of employers said they would hire the youth placed with them if a position opened up

• Girl World
  92% of participants reported setting higher goals for the future as a result of the program

• Behavioral Health
  86% of youth showed improvement on their post-assessment and 85% of youth whose caregiver was also participating in their counseling made improvements in that relationship

I am so committed to this work because I have seen what youth can accomplish over and over again. One young person really captured it by saying, “I think the best part of Alternatives is the open space and the freedom to be yourself. It is an experience I will never forget.” I’m so proud of what our youth accomplish with staff members every day. This is the impact that your support makes possible. We truly appreciate your commitment to Alternatives and the young people of Chicago.

Thank you,

Judith A. Gall

ALTERNATIVES
Youth Shaping Positive Change
GREENCORPS

Alternatives’ Career and Employment Services Greencorps program, involves youth in environmentally friendly projects. Participants learned the fundamentals of bike repair and bike safety.

Youth learned how to break-down and rebuild a bicycle, how to change tires, fix breaks, true wheels, and repair gear shifters. In addition to learning the basics of bike maintenance, youth learned proper hand signals and how to ride safely in an urban environment.

Participants had a blast, and some have even gone on to work in bike shops.

“I didn’t expect to learn about bikes, but I’m glad I did because it prepared me for when I got one. I know things that I wouldn’t have known.”

DONOR PROFILES

“There’s no shortage of organizations accepting donations, especially organizations that serve youth.

I choose to give to Alternatives because its programs are smart, engaging, and responsive to young people’s unique needs. Programs such as Restorative Justice and Girl World make a difference in young people’s lives, not only for that moment but also into adulthood.”

Mamta has served as a board member since 2013 and became Board Secretary in 2016.

MAMTA MUJUMDAR
ATTORNEY, MOMKUS, McCLUSKY, ROBERTS LLC.

“Support Alternatives because they ‘get it.’

They get the challenges confronting kids in Chicago, they get that the best solutions come from the kids themselves and the communities in which they live, and they get that cultivating healthy and active kids supports a future we all want to see. For over 45 years the agency has overcome obstacles to maintain the value of helping empower youth. Please join me in supporting Alternatives, some of the ‘salt and light’ of the great city of Chicago.”

45TH BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Saturday, September 10th, Alternatives celebrated its 45th year of building community with youth by hosting a community block party, featuring music, games, performances, and a special unveiling of our new logo! We want to thank our wonderful Alternatives’ community for supporting this memorable celebration.

RJ AND URBAN ARTS IN ENGLEWOOD

Alternatives has been working closely with public high school students in the Englewood Community Area.

At Robeson High School, our Restorative Justice and Urban Arts programs have been working together to foster stronger school community, resolve conflicts among students and staff, and assist students in developing their social and emotional skills.

During the 2015-2016 school year, students and teachers at Robeson confronted numerous challenges, including budget cuts and community violence. Students collaborated with Alternatives’ staff from both programs to process their traumatic experiences and channel them into building stronger school community. Dealing with the trauma of violence is never easy or straightforward. Alternatives’ programs give students a space in which they can feel safe expressing their feelings.

In September, Robeson Peace Ambassadors (student leaders in the Restorative Justice program), organized a Peace Rally. Nearly 1/3 of the school’s daily attendance participated in the event. One of the students most active in the event had developed a reputation among teachers for being volatile and combative with others.

This was a great opportunity for his teachers who also attended to see a different side of him, which has helped in their efforts to build rapport. In turn, the teachers who attended the Peace Rally boosted their credibility among students, who saw teachers’ participation as a gesture of caring for the whole student, not just their attendance and test scores.
