1 District #90 One-room Country Schoolhouse – The Schoolhouse was moved from its original location outside of Evansville. The school is furnished with authentic donated items. Evansville Historical Founder, Alf Thompson's sister Bertina was the first teacher at this school. Many area schools have scheduled tours including holding actual classes at the schoolhouse.

2 Eagle Lake Town Hall – The original Eagle Lake Township Town Hall moved here in 1995. Displays include original Post Office furnishings, memorabilia from area businesses such as: Evansville Public School, fire department, and the Evansville Garden Club. The annex added to the Town Hall houses a fire engine, horse-drawn buggy, loom and cobbler's bench.

3 The Johanson House – The Johanson House was built in the late 1800's by the Williams family. Exhibits in the Johanson house include the Veteran's Exhibit, a display of wedding gowns from various eras, and the George Partridge display.

4 Johnson House – The Johnson home houses church artifacts and is dedicated to the study of Christian literature and the history of area churches. The parlor replicates a pioneer parsonage, with furnishings used by S.J. Kronberg.

5 Pioneer Church – The Pioneer Church is one of three which stood on the cemetery grounds of the Church of the Seven Dolors in Millerville. This church is an authentic replica of the churches built by our ancestors in the area and throughout the country. The furnishings were donated.

6 Church of the Seven Dolors Prayer Chapel – The Chapel was moved to the Evansville Historical Foundation grounds in the spring of 2006. The church was built by other ancestors in the area and throughout the country. Furnishings were donated.

7 Mound Grove Cemetery Memorial Park – In 1963, Mr. Thompson submitted a park proposal to add water lines and to purchase the land around the cemetery. By May 31, 1965, the new park was dedicated. In the fall of 1971, a mausoleum was added to the facility. Two seven-foot pillars of local Minnesota cobblestones, marked with a bronze template "Mound Grove Cemetery", were placed on each side of the entrance, just in time for the Evansville Centennial celebration in 1981.
