5 New Year’s Resolutions for Mental Health

While you’re getting organized, quitting smoking, and losing weight (the most popular New Year’s resolutions in the U.S.), you may be overlooking something that would actually make a bigger difference for you and your family than those popular resolutions.

How about some New Year’s resolutions for mental health?

You might find that the dissatisfaction that makes you think you need to get organized (again) can be handled better by working directly on the dissatisfaction instead of starting your year with a resolution you haven’t kept in any of the previous years when you’ve made that resolution. New Year’s resolutions for mental health might even make it easier for you to keep the other resolutions you choose to make.

Here are a few to consider:

I will take action on my mental health. There’s enough stigma around mental health in the U.S. that many people choose not to visit a therapist even when they know that a trained, unbiased listener is exactly what they need. A therapist has tools for dealing with mental health issues effectively, and for personal growth and development, too. In fact, that regular appointment is one of the nicest things you can do for yourself.

I will be kind to myself. Does your self talk sound like something you would never say to the people you love? We see people on Facebook posting, “I was a big fat pig” with a photo of their holiday dinner. A friend told us he puts notes up in his house saying, “Don’t smoke that cigarette, dummy!” You don’t deserve that. Treat yourself with respect.

I will set healthy boundaries. Sometimes we give other people too much power in our lives. Letting our significant others, our kids, or our bosses make our lives more difficult can masquerade as kindness, but it’s not always good for us. Define your limits at work, at home, and in other relationships. Maybe you’re not willing to do personal errands for your boss, to lie for your spouse, or to accept verbal abuse from your friends. Let this be the year you say so, directly and without anger.

I will exercise regularly. Does that sound like a physical health resolution? In fact, there is a lot of evidence that regular movement, especially outdoors, helps our mental health as well as our physical health. Put a daily walk, bike ride, or swim on your calendar and stick to it no matter what. Feeling too low for a walk? Move for three minutes, and then you can head home… if you still want to.

I will resist negative thinking. It’s easy for us to figure that positive attitudes and happy thoughts are wishful thinking and that negative thoughts are realistic and practical. Actually, ruminating — going over and over the negative feelings and anxious thoughts that pop into our heads — is neither practical nor realistic. Distracting ourselves with work, exercise, or a puzzle is a healthier choice.

Thanks for Family to Family

The sixth 2017 12-week program of NAMI’s Family to Family education program came to a close Tuesday evening, November 28.

Attendees said about their experience: “Coming in to the class, I was lost and overwhelmed. I didn’t know where to go. Now, I know where to go for resources and I have the knowledge, understanding and where-with-all to advocate on behalf of my loved one.” “The class worked so well because there were so many different points of view. While we were very diverse in age, background, ethnicity and experience, we all had something in common - the mental health difficulties of a family member that brought us together.” “The exercises were also very powerful—especially the voice exercise—as I now understand first-hand a little of what my child is going through.” “My fellow participants feel like extended family. I felt greatly supported.”

All of the program’s trained volunteer co-teachers are praised for their compassion and inspiration. The Family to Family Programs held throughout the year would not be possible without their dedication to sharing their experiences, knowledge, insights and desire to help others understand how to navigate the challenges of the mental illness of a family member.

Next Family to Family class: Thursday, January 18.

Support Group Leaders Needed

We have openings for Adult and Parents of Youth Support Group Leaders. If you have attended our support groups and would like to “give back,” this is your in. To learn more, please contact Helene at hzimmer@namisanmateo.org or 650-638-0800. In order NOT to close any support groups, we need your help! Please consider becoming a member of our Support Group Team!
Scientists Zap 'Voices' from Schizophrenia Sufferers

[PARIS] Scientists have pinpointed a part of the brain where "voices" torment schizophrenia sufferers, and partially muted them with magnetic pulse treatment, a team reported recently.

More than a third of sufferers treated with magnetic pulses in a patient trial experienced "significant" relief, the scientists said in a statement. "We can now say with some certainty that we have found a specific anatomical area of the brain associated with auditory verbal hallucinations in schizophrenia," the team said. "Secondly, we have shown that treatment with high frequency TMS (Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation) makes a difference to at least some sufferers."

Further research must be done to confirm the usefulness of TMS as a treatment in the longer term. The results of the trial, not yet published in a scientific journal, were presented in Paris at a conference of the European College of Neuropsychopharmacology. The trial compared 26 schizophrenic patients who received active TMS to 33 patients who received dummy or placebo treatment. The first group was given a series of magnetic pulses over two sessions a day for two days to the part of the brain's temporal lobe associated with language. Two weeks later, participants were evaluated on the voices they were hearing. Nearly 35 per cent of the TMS patients reported a "significant" improvement.

"Hearing voices" can be one of the most disturbing symptoms for people with schizophrenia and those close to them.

According to the World Health Organization, schizophrenia affects more than 21 million people worldwide.

NAMI SMC Board Members Needed

NAMI San Mateo County (SMC) is looking for three or four new and enthusiastic Board members who want to make a difference in the SMC mental health arena - by helping family members and individuals with a mental health diagnosis receive the support, education and advocacy they need and deserve.

In our 43+ years of operation we have grown from a very small volunteer-run agency to a much stronger organization – that works as a team as well with SMC’s Behavioral Health & Recovery Services and a host of other organizations that focus on mental health in the county.

The Board of Directors provides program and policy direction, raises funds to develop and support new programs and services, as well as links to the broader community. We are currently seeking individuals who have experience in finance, fundraising, marketing, and law. Board meetings are held on the third Wednesday of each month, from 6:00 – 8:00 p.m. at our San Mateo office.

If you would like to be considered to serve on our board, all interested parties should contact Helene Zimmerman, Executive Director at hzimmer@namismanmateo.org. Thank you.

Accolades for NAMI’s In Our Own Voice

"I wanted to let you know about J’s presentation last Monday, she was great the time you came with her, but I really wanted to let you know how wonderful of a job she did by herself, the way she carries herself and presents to our patients speaks volume, she is very professional but also very empathetic and compassionate, the way she responds to our patients, especially those who’ve expressed some discontent or troubling thoughts, was something I was very impressed with, it was evident her words carried weight especially with the patients whom they themselves expressed NAMI is very fortunate to have as valuable an asset as her to be part of your team.

Again, thank you for providing us with a variety of wonderful speakers, I always enjoy listening and learning myself, we’re very fortunate to have NAMI as a partner to provide services to those we serve."

New Additions to the Library

Please visit the library at the NAMI San Mateo County office - we have books and videos available to check out! Watch for our latest additions below. If you have read a book related to Mental Health issues that you believe would benefit others, please email the office with the title and author.

Full Catastrophe Living (Revised Edition): Using the Wisdom of Your Body and Mind to Face Stress, Pain, and Illness by John Kabat-Zinn

Stress. It can sap our energy, undermine our health if we let it, even shorten our lives. It makes us more vulnerable to anxiety and depression, disconnection and disease. Based on Jon Kabat-Zinn’s renowned mindfulness-based stress reduction program, this classic, groundbreaking work—which gave rise to a whole new field in medicine and psychology—shows you how to use medically proven mind-body approaches derived from meditation and yoga to counteract stress, establish greater balance of body and mind, and stimulate well-being and healing.

Full Catastrophe Living is a book for the young and the old, the well and the ill, and anyone trying to live a healthier and saner life in our fast-paced world.

Update on NAMI SMC’s Peer PALS Program

Our Peer PALS is growing and thriving. We had our first PAL Training on November 6th where 7 PALS came and learned about the 4 Dimensions of Wellness: Community, Health, Home and Purpose. We also announced our involvement with CATS, a free ticket program that will allow our Peer PALS to attend exciting events and venues such as SF Giants games, the California Academy of Sciences, the SF Ballet and even obtain free movie tickets! We are currently in the midst of signing up and hope to receive our membership very soon.

Whilst the program is gaining momentum, we still need Peer and PAL applicants in order to meet demands. Please consider applying as a Peer to receive the friendship and support of a PAL OR please share this with someone who could benefit from our program. To make a difference in someone’s life, call today for information on how to become a PAL. Learn more about this FREE program at http://namisanmateo.org/about-us/jobs and/or email Rocio the Peer PALS Coordinator at PeerPals@namisanmateo.org.

Peers: This program helps decrease loneliness and isolation, increase comfort in social situations and self-esteem, and convey lifestyle habits that promote and maintain recovery.

PALS: First complete NAMI’s Peer to Peer class or similar education/mentoring classes through a community service agency or college. To discuss the program, call 650-638-0800. Join us!

November “Gratitude” Meeting Review

For five out of the six General Meetings held each year, participants hear about new information, opportunities and updates within the mental health arena in San Mateo County. The final and most fun General Meeting of the year is the “Gratitude General Meeting.”

This year, attendees rocked to the sound of Tehya – music guaranteed to rock your soul! With plenty of pie and whipped cream for everyone, conversations flowed, and the evening’s presentations by Ian Adamson (Family Assertive Support Team) and Rocio Cornejo (Peer PALS Coordinator), rounded out the good time.

Some comments about the meeting included: “Very good Thanksgiving meeting….loved the music and good messages too.” “NAMI’s Thanksgiving Gratitude meeting was inspirational, motivational, fun and touching.” “It was an enjoyable time for individuals and families in an atmosphere of camaraderie and friendship that doesn’t always happen.”

Looking forward to seeing you at our January 24 General Meeting – see front page for details!

NAMI California is resuming monthly California Advocacy Network (CAN!) meetings.

Each month a web-based legislative wrap-up will connect affiliates which share next steps regarding advocacy. The focus is on bills NAMI California tracked during the session and sharing important advocacy updates with members.

Personal Stories of Change & Understanding

It’s important for people living around mental illness conditions to know that they are not alone. Sharing a story about your personal experiences with mental health challenges—as an individual with a diagnosis, or as a family member or friend—can help in your own recovery as well as provide encouragement and support to others with similar experiences.

Since a young girl I have known my share of loss & challenges. Many years later I found myself facing one that I could not overcome - that of constant pain resulting from a pelvic surgery that went terribly wrong.

Before that time, I enjoyed being an athlete: ice-dancing, hiking, Pilates, creative movement. One day, only a few weeks after my surgery I began to have difficult symptoms which made moving or sitting extremely painful and for five years I looked for answers - finding none. Eventually, through another three surgeries I learned that I had ARD (Adhesive Related Disease), which is internal scar tissue that binds organs together. At some point, my proactive attempts to solve the problem with pain began to turn to feelings of terror, helplessness, hopelessness and dread of living another day with no way out. My therapist knew I was in trouble and suggested I go to the hospital since I was having nightmares and shaking inside myself with no where to turn except to wishing I didn’t need to live at all.

I spent 10 days impatient at a hospital and the first few days found me wandering in the hallway paralyzed with hopelessness or finding myself crying in desperation looking for the slightest shred of promise for a better day. After discharge I participated in an 8 week intensive out-patient program to learn coping skills.

Fast forward to today and I find myself immersed in the activities and relationships that support recovery. NAMI has been instrumental in helping me realize that I’m not alone and that no one need be. The genuine interaction I have with my peers as well as the sharing and learning about ways to cope and thrive has been transformative. I am honored to be able to present through the In Our Own Voice program through NAMI, volunteer for the No One Dies Alone Program & offer Spiritual Care at Stanford Hospital, serve on the Advisory Council for Pain Management and walk one-to-one with those suffering through being a Stephen Minister.

I spend my time helping others, making art, enjoying friends, cooking, listening to music, watching good movies, going to my beloved church and seeing all the wonderful people I’ve meet there. Through my faith and community I find many things that make my life worth living to its fullest!
