

MORNING JOY!

Psalm 30:5

.weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.

Each morning when you wake up even before you put in your make-up God sends you a special delivery of joy. It comes knocking at your door. When you get up in faith and make that declaration that “this is going to be a good day,” it sets the atmosphere for your entire day !

In other words, You just answered the door. You just received the special gift of joy that God sent to you. I realize that some people never answer the door. Joy has been knocking day after day trying to come in for months and months, years and years saying, “Come on! Let me in! You can be happy! You can enjoy your life!”

Make up your mind today that You’re going to answer the door for joy. Wake up this morning and every morning and say, “Father, thank You for another beautiful day.” Decree and Declare “ I’m going to be happy. I’m going to enjoy this day. I’m going to brighten somebody else’s life. I receive Your gift of joy, today!”

Say Good Morning to your Joy and welcome it like a garment. Wear it proudly and don’t let anyone take it or try and steal it. It’s Yours!
