The coyote is a member of the dog family, Canidae. They can be found throughout the United States and are quite common in Utah. Coyotes are adapted to a wide range of habitats including urban areas, such as inner cities and suburban neighborhoods. To avoid conflicts with coyotes, your family could remove attractants from your yard including pet food, water sources, bird feeders, fallen fruit, and trash. Protect your pets by keeping them inside at night. Do not approach or try to feed a coyote. Coyotes, as wild animals, are naturally wary and usually avoid people. But if a coyote approaches you, do not run or turn your back on the coyote. Make loud noises, stomp your feet, clap your hands and yell. Throw sticks or rocks if the coyote continues to approach. Call for an adult to come help. Back away slowly and leave the area.
