

CHIEF MASTER SERGEANT ALEXIA BROWN (RET)

Chief Master Sergeant Alexia Brown (ret) served in multiple capacities during her 30 years with the Air Force culminating as Air Force Special Operations Command (AFSOC) Financial Management and Comptroller Directorate's Chief Enlisted Manager. She was the principal advisor to AFSOC's Comptroller for financial concerns related to 15 thousand personnel and a $2.3M annual budget. Additionally, she was responsible for all matters impacting the command's 90 enlisted comptroller personnel to include utilization, education, training, and career development. As AFSOC's Financial Management war planner, she managed both Air Force and Special Operations Forces for real-world deployments.

Chief Brown grew up in Conroe, Texas, where she graduated from high school in 1984 and later joined the Air Force in 1987. She served as an aircraft fuel systems mechanic and a master instructor on F15s and F16s. After retraining into the Finance career field, she served in various financial analysis and financial management positions including supervisor and section chief. Furthermore, Chief Brown held positions beyond that of the career field as squadron additional duty first sergeant and training manager. Her assignments include bases in Washington, Georgia, North Carolina, California, Ohio, and Florida. She served overseas in Japan and Germany. She also deployed to Kyrgyzstan and Qatar supporting Operations ENDURING and IRAQI FREEDOM.
