MEMBRANE ROOFING SYSTEM

The custom prefabricated, reinforced, thermoplastic membrane roofing system we install comes in rolls up to 2,500 square feet which means only 15% of seams are done during installation. This membrane expands and contracts with temperature changes, eliminating the risk of roof leaks. This system can help buildings obtain LEED® and LEED-EB credits.

ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY

We take pride in our practices that help save the planet. When we replace membrane roofing, we cut it into 5' x 5' sections and ship it back to the factory for re-production. The pallets from products delivered to us are provided to a local landscape company that grinds them for decorative mulch. All steel, aluminum, copper and lead are taken to a local recycling facility.

COMPLETE SERVICE FROM PROPOSAL THROUGH INSPECTION

We begin by measuring your roof to prepare a complimentary proposal. Custom prefabricated panels are manufactured specially for your roof to ensure minimal waste and optimal fit. Included are all the components you'd expect such as pipe flashings, inside/outside corners, two-way vents, drain liners, termination bars and edge details in a variety of styles. Upon completion of your roof installation, we carefully check each seam. A final inspection is done by the membrane provider and the warranty goes into effect.

SAFE ON-SITE PROCEDURES WITH MINIMAL INTRUSION

When we begin a roofing project, our first priority is to set up per OSHA safety requirements to protect our crew and the general public. We designate an area to supply the installation team with materials while using the least amount of your area and assuring you can conduct business as usual. The length of time the project will require depends on the size, type, and specific details of your roof, but generally plan on one to two weeks.
