Masons Urged to Support Veterans Visitation Plan Of Masonic Service Assn.

The veteran hospitals provide the best in medical attention, and do what they can to alleviate loneliness and despair, but still more is required. A handbook for agents of the Masonic Service Association explains the need and the reason:

"Everyone has had experiences in which the mind affects the body. Worry and appetite disappears; grief, and sleep departs; have a great joy, and feel twice as young and healthy as normally."

"Conversely, the body affects the mind. Have a bad headache, and lose all desire to see a show; get the flu, and the world seems a very poor place in which to live; have an operation, and care little whether life continues or not; be searched and afraid—not of death, but that it won’t come!"

Grand Lodge has been financing the visitation program in Pennsylvania veterans hospitals through use of about $150,000 left over from the Masonic Veteran Fund. Only about $8,000 now remains. However, Grand Lodge is committed by agreement with the Masonic Service Association to pay about $25,000 in November for the current year’s activity.

Consequently, Bro. McCain urges that Lodges make contributions to their Charity Funds and that members make donations to help restore the honor of the Lodge in the eyes of the public.

Joining the American Masons’ Bicentennial celebration on the Valley Forge grounds, then George Washington’s Colonial parks by the Masons of Pennsylvania, Sculptor Donald DeLue will be present. The family will speak again at an evening banquet and entertainment in nearby Philadelphia following the events at Valley Forge. The Valley Forge schedule includes:

11 a.m.-2:30 p.m., Freedom Foundation open house and tours.
2:30 p.m., a concert by the Lu Lu Temple Band.
3:30 p.m., a processional.
3:45 p.m., opening of the program.

The program includes:

• Invocation – Grand Lodge Chaplain.
• Singing of the first verse of “The Star-Spangled Banner.”

NEW POLICY FOR HOMES

The Committee on Masonic Homes has authorized issuing applications to non-legally qualified applicants.

This includes Master Masons, widows of Master Masons and mothers of deceased Master Masons.

This policy is possible only because there is a limited number of beds available for skilled and intermediate care at the Masonic Homes at Elizabethtown.

First consideration will be given to non-legally qualified applicants on merit, looking at the immediate need.

Bro. John L. McCain, Grand Master, warned a full-house audience in Deputy Grand Master, also spoke.

The weather was perfect for the celebration in scenic Potter County. In attendance were Master Masons from all parts of the state, their families and friends. The public was encouraged to attend.

The program includes:

Music by the Lu Lu Temple Band and the Scottish Rite Choir of Allentown and the singing of the American and British National Anthems will feature the program which begins at 3 p.m. with a presentation by uniformed Masonic bodies.

The ceremony will be held in the area of the statue, “George Washington at Prayer,” which was presented to Freedom Foundation by the Masons of Pennsylvania. Sculptor Donald DeLue will be present.

Brethren and Lodges are asked to help Veterans’ Program.

To enable Grand Lodge to continue offering friendship—and most important of all, hope—to former servicemen who are long-term patients in veterans hospitals, Bro. McCain urges Lodges and Brethren to lend a helping hand.

The Masonic Service Association has been conducting a visitation program at veterans hospitals in Pennsylvania for six years at a cost of about $25,000 a year to Grand Lodge, and the money for this purpose is all but exhausted.

However, the need for visiting hospitalized veterans is great as ever. Afflictions of World Wars I and II and the Korean Conflict have a delayed-action way of surfacing in later years, adding to the number of such veterans already hospitalized, and Vietnam fighting has contributed its thousands.

Carefully chosen trained field agents of the Association visit the veterans—Brothers and non-members alike—to make sure that these fighters of our country’s wars know they are not forgotten although they are separated from family and friends.

The visits perform many special services for the hospitalized veterans. They run outside errands for those unable to leave the hospitals, and accompany others whose condition permits on brief outside trips for a variety of missions which help bring peace of mind to the patient.

The square Masonic Emblem of jeweler's bronze identifies the wearer as a member of the Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania, and bears the Bicentennial dates, 1776-1976.

The Emblem is now on sale at the Museum in Masonic Temple, Philadelphia, for $2.00 including sales tax. It can also be purchased by mail for $2.25, including sales tax and postage.

In ordering medallions or the Emblem by mail, Brothers should send their checks, made out to the Grand Secretary, to the Committee on Masonic Collectibles, One N. Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa. 19107.

Be sure you have a Masonic moment of the Bicentennial year.

"Masonic Moment of Bicentennial"

Medallions and Lapel Emblem Appropriate Souvenirs

With America's Bicentennial year already past its halfway point, Masons who have missed their opportunity to obtain two special Bicentennial medallions and the 1976 Masonic lapel emblem may still get them from Grand Lodge.

All three make excellent Fraternal moments of the nation's 200th birthday, and the supply is limited. However, Brothers still without one or all may remedy the situation by acting quickly while all are still available.

The bigger of the two Bicentennial medallions - both struck in heavy bronze by order of the Grand Lodge - is three inches in diameter, and is designed to stand on an easel which comes with the medallion.

On one side is a bas-relief replica of the status, "George Washington at Valley Forge," by world-famous sculptor Donald DeLue. It bears the dates, 1776-1976.

On the other side is a reproduction of the Seal of the Grand Master of Masons in Pennsylvania. It bears the name of Bro. John L. McCall, Grand Master, the date, 1976, and the legend, "American Bicentennial!".

The cost of the large medallion is: $8.00 when purchased by mail, including a case, mailing box, postage and sales tax.

The smaller of the two medallions is an inch and a half in diameter, the size and thickness of a silver dollar. On one side is a reproduction of the Masonic Temple, Philadelphia, home of the Grand Lodge. On the opposite side is the Seal of the Grand Master and the date, 1976.

The cost of the dollar-sized medallion is: $1.00 including sales tax, when purchased at the Masonic Temple, Philadelphia.

$1.25 when ordered by mail, including tax and postage.

More than 35,000 persons—one of the biggest crowds in Ligonier's history—lamed the borough June 26 for the first public Masonic parade in Pennsylvania in 103 years.

The occasion was Grand Lodge's second of four Bicentennial Dedication Days to be held this year.

Parading in full Masonic regalia were Bro. John L. McCain, Grand Master, other elected officers, five Past Grand Masters, almost 30 District Deputies, appointed Grand Lodge officers and about 500 Blue Lodge officers.

Spectators filled the sidewalks and packed Main Street to watch the parade of more than 5,000 participants which took almost two hours to pass a reviewing stand on the Square in the center of the borough.

A bright sun shone in a cloudless sky, and the temperature of 85 degrees made comfortable a breeze which blew throughout the day.

In the parade were marching and performing units from Masonic Orders, affiliated organizations and others. Included were representatives of Syria, Jaffa and Zem Zam Temples, Isalm Gooto, Knights Templar, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, the Rainbow for Girls, Job's Daughters and DeMolay.

Loud ovations greeted many colorful paraders such as Arab Patrol Band, horse, cycle and miniature-auto units and many other special units.

Other standards were the Bower for Girls Lodette Drill Team from Lock Haven, Job's Daughters Drill Team of Greensburg and massed Centers of DeMolay from Greensburg, Erie, Whitehall, Clearfield, McCandless Township and Johnstown.

Dignitaries in the procession included Bro. Stanley F. Maxwell, Grand Master of Massachusetts and Sovereign Grand Commander, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of North America.

After the parade, the crowd moved to an amphitheater near historic Fort Ligonier for patriotic ceremonies during which Bro. McCain made presentations to Luther W. Stier, president of the Fort Ligonier Memorial Foundation.

Evening events included a concert on the Square and the Bobcats and a fireworks display.

Appreciated by the big crowd were the floats, boxes around the Square which served sandwiches, cold drinks and ice cream. More substantial meals were available at the nearby churches.

Despite the huge size of the crowd, its members were extremely well behaved, including youngsters.

Traffic was routed around the center of Ligonier by police and firemen.

Masonic Standards Are Inspiration To People

"Although we are far from perfect, we have a standard that has been an inspiration to all people and which many organizations of any stripe fulfill. By the people, and for the people,' not for organizations of any kind."

"Walk for Charity"

DeMolay Makes Presentation to Grand Master

Twelve members of Oriental Chapter, DeMolay, of Johnstown, took a 21/2-mile walk June 26 for charity and to mark the 50th anniversary of the Chapter.

The youths took up a collection along their route from Johnstown to Ligonier, and presented two buckets of coins and currency totaling $136.92 to Bro. John L. McCain, Grand Master, during Grand Lodge's Bicentennial Dedication program at Fort Ligonier.

Bro. McCain accepted the money for the Masonic Homes at Elizabethown.

On the long march, people in passing cars and at intersections tossed contributions into the two buckets carried by the youths along with a sign, "Walking for Charity."

Richard Orrey, District Deputy of the DeMolay in the Johnstown area, made the trip with the marchers, but in a less rigorous fashion—he was in an automobile.

The Chapter's Master Councillor, Brian Roberts, presented the money to Bro. McCain during ceremonies at Fort Ligonier, explaining how it was collected.

Also participating in the presentation were Senior Councillor Donald Cunningham and Bart Wilson, in DeMolay roles.

"Sweetest Music This Side of Heaven"

Guy Lombardo Featured at Dec. 1 Bicentennial Banquet

Masons and their ladies won't be able to attend this year for their annual enjoyment of Guy Lombardo and the "sweetest music this side of heaven" on New Year's Eve television.

Guy and his Royal Canadians will bring their time-honored tunes and show features in person to Grand Lodge's Bicentennial Banquet Dec. 1 in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton Hotel, 1725 John F. Kennedy Blvd., Philadelphia.

The Royal Canadians have been providing their instantly recognizable style of music for more than 40 years. Whenever and wherever they perform, they present their full complement of regular members. There are no pick-up players.

Because of the popularity of the Lombardo Orchestra, tickets are being limited to 1,000 in an effort to avoid overcrowding and to leave room for dancing.

Reservations will be made on a first-come, first-served basis, and Brothers planning to attend are urged not to delay in requesting reservations.

The cost will be $22 per person which covers the following:

- A delicious roast-beef, cold-beef dinner at 6:30 p.m.
- Dancing, plus the unique Lombardo entertainment, until midnight.
- Free parking in the Sheraton garage, across Kennedy Blvd., from the hotel.

Dress for the affair will be tuxedo, dark suit acceptable.

Brothers intending to be present are requested to complete the accompanying application for reservations, marking it and their checks as indicated.

Applications for tickets must be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope. Ten persons will be seated at each table.

Long-time followers of the Lombardo Orchestra will recognize six members who have been with the band since its beginning. Included is Guy's brother, Guyne, composer of such hits as "Boo Hoo," "Little Coquette," "Seems Like Old Times," "Return to Me," "Sweethearts on Parade," and others.

Other "originals" still with the Canadians are Lombardo brothers Lebert and Victor, brother-in-law Kenny Gardner, still does vocals, George McGowan and Larry Owens, now the music arranger.

Guy Lombardo . . . maestro . . . master showman . . . talks to sunshine audience in a break in the music of the Royal Canadians.

HOTEL ROOMS ARE AVAILABLE

Those desiring room reservations in the Sheraton Hotel can obtain them by sending a request to: Reservations Office, Sheraton Hotel, 1725 John F. Kennedy Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa. 19103.

Single-bedded rooms are available for $36 for double occupancy.

Further information can be obtained from the Reservations Office of the Hotel. (Area Code 215) 560-3300.
Ceremony and music in Ligonier - June 26

For the first time in a century, Free Masonry "went public" in Ligonier Saturday. In a Rededication ceremony commemorating the Bicentennial, thousands of Free and Accepted Masons and affiliated orders paraded in the country town before a crowd estimated at 33,000 persons.

There were the light-hearted clowns and three-wheelers interspersed among the members of the Blue Lodge and the Knights Templar. The DeMolay and Rainbow for Girls represented youth. The American flag was prominently displayed and appropriately honored.

In a ceremony in Fort Ligonier, the Masons paused to reflect on the patriots who founded this nation 200 years ago. Their offering — a statue of George Washington at prayer at Valley Forge — indicated they think seriously and act prudently. They contributed $5,000 for the future expansion of Fort Ligonier which will be a lasting memorial to the event.

When the visitors left, the town was not littered with rubble. An orderly crowd enjoyed a day of dignity — a day of quiet respect for our nation. It was considered the largest and most orderly group of visitors who had ever graced the Borough of Ligonier.

Compare this with what is expected on July 4 in Philadelphia where dissenters have "promised" to "blow out the candle on our cake."

We extend a High Tip of the Hat to the Free and Accepted Masons who have proven that integrity of purpose will garner respect of Americans who can light and extinguish the candles on their own birthday cakes.

The above Editorial was in the Greensburg Tribune-Review on June 30, 1976.
Grand Master's Dinner-Dance, Dec. 27, In Philadelphia

Earl Wrightson and Lois Hunt are excellent singers individually, but together they lift musical entertainment to a level of melody, timing and comedy attained only in top performances of the best Broadway shows.

This sparkling party will appear at the Grand Master's Dinner-Dance Dec. 27 in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton Hotel, 1725 John F. Kennedy Blvd., Philadelphia.

For Masons and their ladies attending the event, memories of the Wrightson-Hunt duo will not soon fade. Wherever they have entertained, the verdict has been: "Unforgettable."

In addition, there will be music for dancing by Bro. Joe Martin's 12-piece orchestra and a delicious roast sirloin-off- beef dinner to start the evening at 6:30 p.m.

Bro. John L. McCain will be installed for his second term as Right Worshipful Grand Master of Masons of Pennsylvania at noon Dec. 27.

Masonic leaders throughout the country will be present at the Annual Grand Communication, as has been customary in past years. They also will attend the Grand Master's Dinner-Dance which will climax two days of activities for the Masonic Brethren.

The cost of the dinner-dance will be $16 per person, including the meal and free parking in the Sheraton Hotel garage, across the boulevard from the hotel.

Dress for the affair will be tuxedo, but a dark suit is acceptable.

The ticket sale will be limited to 1,000 in order to assure seats in open areas of the ballroom for all those attending and to allow space for dancing.

Applications for tickets will be processed in the order that they are received and Brothers planning to be present are urged not to delay.

They are asked to complete the accompanying questionnaire form, marking it and their checks as indicated. Ten persons will be seated at each table.

Those desiring to stay overnight at the Sheraton Hotel may make reservations by following the instructions in the accompanying hotel-room reservation.

The entertainers at the dinner-dance, Mr. Wrightson and Mrs. Hunt, come together on different but strangely similar paths. He was a network radio singer who nearly went into opera, but turned to Broadway musicals. She was an opera singer who switched to the more contemporary art form of musical comedy.

Since their first joint appearance, they have been in great demand. They have starred in numerous Broadway musicals, television shows and on records to become the nation's best known contemporary musical-comedy team.

Miss Hunt began singing lyric scenic operatic roles after winning the Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air almost before she was old enough to vote.

Masonic Temple Exhibit
Open to General Public Until Closing on Sept. 15

A stroll through the exhibits by various Grand Lodges in the Grand Banquet Hall in the first floor of the Masonic Temple, Philadelphia, is a trip backward in time—as far as 4,500 years back—into the history of the world, the nation and Freemasonry.

The journey is enhanced by members of the Rainbow for Girls who serve as guides in Colonial costumes.

The oldest artifact on display is a broken Mason's maul which was used 3,500 years ago at the site of the ancient city of Thebes, near Luxor, 450 miles south of Cairo, Egypt. This maul is one of several discovered in the area. They apparently were used in construction of the Temple at Thebes, and were discarded after being damaged.

A more recent exhibit provides a view of the City Hall Masonic Temple area of Philadelphia as it was a century ago. It consists of a series of enlarged photos for the completed Temple were held Sept. 26, 1873.

Among the tangible connections between the Revolution and the celebration of its victory 200 years later is an exhibit bequeathed to Washington Lodge No. 59 by Bro. William J. Fulton.

This consists of a five-foot-long musket, in rammed in place and apparently in working order, and a large battle flag, both of which were carried in combat throughout the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812. The flag features a screaming eagle clutching three stars and an olive branch on a red, white and blue shield.

Colorful exhibits abound, and a real eye-catcher is provided by Grand Lodge of New Jersey. This is a huge, back-lighted, stained-glass mural of Washington Crossing the Delaware on route to a victory over the British and Hessians at Trenton. The mural, about 15 by 6 feet in size, shows with reds, blues and other vivid hues.

Exhibits also illustrate cultures and ecclesiases of various states as well as their histories.

The display of Grand Lodge of South Carolina is coach in Spanish moss behind a pine-like fence encircling a pine tree and a simulated alligator. Included is a replica of the log-cabin birthplace of Andrew Jackson, seventh U.S. President and Grand Master of Tennessee in 1822-23.

Grand Lodge of New York features a photo of the DeWitt House at Tappan, Washington's headquarters in 1780-81 at the time of Benedict Arnold's treason.

Built in 1700, the house is a national landmark and a Masonic Shrine.

A striking miniature battle scene of the Revolutionary War appears in an exhibit by the Grand Lodge of North Carolina. It depicts a battle of Feb. 2, 1776, when the British sought to subdue the South early in the war, and were overwhelmed by North Carolinians and militia at Moore's Creek.

Grand Lodge of Massachusetts presents a taped history of "Freemasonry in Revolutionary Boston" which, with slides and drawings, shows places and events of 200 years ago.

Another exhibit in the antique-stage category is the "Bible Sacra," printed in Venice, Italy, in 1482, ten years before Columbus discovered land in the Western Hemisphere. Written in Latin, it is one of the oldest printed books in existence. The 15th-century Bible was presented to Grand Lodge of Maryland in 1832.

These displays will remain until Sept. 15, when they will be dismantled and returned to the respective Jurisdictions.

The tour schedule to Sept. 15, Monday through Saturday, will be continuous tours from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Sunday hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

After Sept. 15, the tour hours will be 10 a.m., 11 a.m., 1 p.m., 2 p.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Saturday tours will be 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. only. There will be no tours on Sunday.
Trowel and Scroll Crosses United States By Wagon Train

The Grand Lodge museum is now displaying a trowel and scroll that crossed the United States by covered wagon.

It was a gift from the Masons of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of District 10 in the State of Washington.

It started its eastern journey in Blaine, Washington, on June 8, 1975, arriving at Valley Forge in the great wagon train on July 4, 1976.

The scroll states:

"GREETINGS!

"We, the Masons of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of District No. 10, in the Grand State of Washington F. & A.M.,

"In token of our fraternal relationship we present, herewith, a Masonic Trowel, properly inscribed, in perpetuity spread the cement which unites us into one Sacred Bond or Society of friends and Brothers.

"May the Supreme Architect of the Universe design and guide our future, as Masons and Americans, forever.

"It was signed by the presiding Masters of District 10 in 1975."

The stainless steel trowel is inscribed as follows:

Only One Lodge Was Constituted in Independence Hall, Philadelphia

It was reported in the last issue of the Freemason that Columbia Lodge No. 91 and Rising Star Lodge No. 126 were both constituted in Independence Hall.

Rising Star Lodge No. 126 was constituted in Independence Hall on September 19, 1801 and will celebrate its 175th Anniversary 1976.

Lodge No. 126 was constituted on February 18, 1811 but not in Independence Hall.

Last Dedication Program At Freedoms Foundation At Valley Forge — Oct. 9

- Joint National Anthem with the Lu Lu Band.
- Singing of "God Save the Queen" with the band.
- Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.
- Choral selections by the Scottish Rite Choir of Allentown.
- Introduction of Dorothy DeLuca, Scottish Rite Choir of "George Washington at Prayer."
- Choral selection by the Scottish Rite Choir.
- Introduction of Bro. Stubbins.
- Address by Bro. Stubbins.
- Commemorative ceremony at the statue.
- Dedication — Grand Chaplain.

After the Valley Forge program, a Dedication Banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Sunnybrook Ballroom at Pottstown.

Bro. David J. Godschall, District Deputy Grand Master and general chairman of Masonic Dedication Day, will preside at the banquet.

Featured will be the Singing Cedars, a chorus of business and professional men from metropolitan Washington, D.C. They have performed on television, radio and the stage, and have made records.

Because the Singing Cedars are dedicated to helping the thousands of children afflicted with muscular dystrophy, it is said that the group "sings so kids can walk."

The banquet program includes:
- Singing of the National Anthem and "God Save the Queen."
- Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.
- Dinner.
- Dinner music by Bro. Joe Martin's Orchestra.
- Introduction of distinguished guests.
- Entertainment of the Singing Cedars, introduced by the Supreme Tall Cedar.
- Benediction — Grand Chaplain.

Tickets for the dinner and show are $12.50 each, $25.00 a couple. Please use the accompanying form to order them, and send it with payment as soon as possible to the Grand Master's Office, Masonic Temple, One North Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa., 19107.
