Maryhill Museum of Art re-opens March 15

Maryhill Museum of Art will re-open for the season on March 15 with a special exhibition featuring 40 works by Richard F. Lack. American Classical Realism will also be featured in a concurrent exhibition that includes work by R.H. Ives Gammell, Robert Douglas Hunter and Samuel Rose. Historic and contemporary European and American landscape paintings, and an exhibition of smaller sculptures, all drawn from the museum's collection, will also be on view in 2018.

A wide range of related programming for adults and families, including lectures, hands-on art workshops and special events will be offered throughout the year. Full calendar at <http://www.maryhillmuseum.org>.

SPECIAL EXHIBITIONS IN 2018

Richard F. Lack: The Interior Journey—Paintings, Drawings, and Studies

The paintings of Richard F. Lack (1928–2009) combine the form and drawing of nineteenth-century academic painters with the color and atmosphere of the Boston impressionists. His interest in classical painting traditions led him to the atelier of R. H. Ives Gammell, with whom he studied from 1950 to 1956. Lack and Gammell were proponents of “Imaginative Painting” and used the term to describe work that was previously designated as historical—or poetic—painting. It includes historical, religious, mythological, allegorical, fantasy, mystical and symbolic art. Curated by Stephen Gjertson, with assistance from The Atelier and the Lack Estate. Gjertson is a Minneapolis-area artist who was a student of Lack and a former teacher at his atelier.

American Classical Realism

R.H. Ives Gammell (1893–1981) was one of the last American artists whose training traces back to the French academic tradition of the late eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. In 1950, he founded a Boston studio to ensure that the classical painting tradition would be preserved. In the early 1980s, one of Gammell's students, Richard Lack, was asked to coin a term that would distinguish the work of the Boston realists from that of other representational artists. The idea of “Classical Realism” was subsequently articulated. Maryhill Museum of Art is home to a large collection of these works and this exhibition draws from that material. Work by Gammell and three of his students—Richard Lack (1928–2009), Robert Douglas Hunter (1928–2014) and Samuel Rose (1941–2008)—may be seen in the exhibition.

Maryhill Favorites: Landscape

This exhibition showcases landscape paintings from the museum's collection, including historic and contemporary European and American works, and recent paintings from the 2016 and 2017 Pacific Northwest Plein Air in the Columbia River Gorge events.

Sculpture from the Permanent Collection

On view are 20 small sculptures from the museum's permanent collection. Highlights include Art Deco ceramics by Seraphin Soudbinine, bronzes by French artist Théodore Rivière, and The Wretched by Meta Vaux Warrick Fuller.

OTHER EXHIBITIONS:

In addition to the special exhibitions mentioned above, the museum has permanent exhibitions of more than 80 works by Auguste Rodin, European and American paintings, objects d'art from the palaces of the Queen of Romania, Orthodox icons, a display of more than 75 chess sets from around the world, and the renowned Théâtre de la Mode, featuring small-scale mannequins attired in haute couture fashions of post-World War II France.

The museum's Native American Gallery features works of art from prehistoric through contemporary, with a particular emphasis on tribes from the Pacific Northwest. The exhibition Sam Hill and the Columbia River Highway shows historic construction images and early scenic views of the Columbia River Gorge.

Book Report

By Judy Bane
"Deep Freeze"

by John Sandford

A few years back, Virgil investigated the corrupt - and as it turned out, homicidal - local school board in Tripton, Minnesota. Now the town's back in view with more alarming news: A woman's been found frozen in ice. There's a possibility that it might be connected to a high school class of twenty years ago, and so, Virgil begins to dig into twenty years' worth of bad blood.

Virgil Flowers is a favorite of mine in the many books by John Sandford. Deceptively laid back, people who don't know him think he isn't trying very hard but the reality is that he is more than capable of chasing down the bad guys. Set in the icy cold winter of Minnesota, this story is masterfully crafted and will keep you guessing what Virgil will discover next. He has a large circle of contacts that help him find facts that outsiders would never be able to discover.

This story is full of characters straight out of small town America, down home humor that will entertain you while the plot winds around the back roads of peoples lives. I highly recommend you get to know Virgil Flowers.

Community Council Corner

By P.J. Sisseck

Community Council Report for
February 8, 2018

Jeremy Wissing of the Liquor and Marijuana Control Board spoke with us about RCW-6950 (Controlled Substances Act) and associated legislation. Some growing and usage of marijuana is now legal, but is regulated. Mr. Wissing is the supervisor of five enforcement officers based on the East side of the Cascades.

RCW-6950A allows for the medical use of marijuana, and for an authorized person to grow their own. Small cooperatives of up to four individuals may participate in a mutual growing operation, all plants in one location, with all participating in the work. None of the product is to be seen or smelled by the public, nor is any to be distributed outside of the Cooperative.

Unfortunately, a Black Market has sprung up, with marijuana and products made there being sold to the public. It remains a Federal offense/felony to distribute marijuana. Sting operations, with 18-20 year olds using their own IDs, have resulted in arrests. Klickitat County Sheriff Bob Songer mentioned a rise in DUIs involving marijuana, and a noticeable rise in Black Market sources.

Andrew Kelly, Lyle Superintendent of Schools, and Tom Furey of SageTech presented an overview of the business moving into the former Dallesport School facility.

Improvements to the building and grounds are already underway, and we are assured that the playgrounds, softball field, and track area will remain open and maintained for public use.

About 85 employees will be moving into the facility, projected for late Summer/early Fall. SageTech foresees a growth over the next five years, with a likely 30 new positions to be filled.

Please join us for the next Council meeting on March 8th. 7pm at the Dallesport Community Center.

A CALL FOR SUPPORT

David McNeal

Has anyone noticed an increase in the slight-of-hand, less than honorable approach by forces outside the Dallesport-Murdock community trying to exert change, or at least manipulate the economic landscape of this community? However judgmentally real, or just perceived; it is happening right now and from all directions.

Entities such as the Lyle School District, the Yakama Nation Housing Authority, the Klickitat County Economic Development Office, the Dallesport Water District, wastewater district, the Port of Klickitat, and the Columbia Gorge Regional Airport Board. Especially, decisions by the Klickitat County Board of Commissioners and the Klickitat County Board of Planning Commissioners affect our neighborhood. These issues may not be intentionally harmful from their perspective. None the less, they have their sights set on this community, and we live with the ramifications regardless. Isn't it reasonable for us, as a community to be a party to every stage of planning?

Honestly, it is our responsibility to be fully engaged and informed. All of us share in that responsibility. We should strive be pro-active participants, and not just reactionaries to what we as a community approve of or disapprove of, that will be effecting us.

The members of your Dallesport-Murdock Community Council need you to help us stay informed by sharing in the attendance at all public meetings (locally; Klickitat County Board of Commissioners, Klickitat County Planning Commissioners, Lyle School District Board, our Community Council, etc.). Many public workshops, public hearings, seminars and more are pummeling us because government happens with, or without public involvement. And, guess who benefits from public non-participation?

Just as with our Crime Prevention and Community Watch Programs, the more people involved with their neighbors, the greater the reward. And, the time invested will personally be well worth it because you have contributed to this community's effort to be fully engaged and informed!

Value not just your property. But also, value your neighbors and your community. Please join in these activities because they truly are important to each of us.

Triage Vol II, Issue I

There are a lot of conversations in the news and social media about devastating events involving shootings. This certainly has not gone unnoticed by not only KCEMS District 1 staff but all members of public safety in Klickitat County.

There are certain events we so very much want to not have happen in our county; unfortunately we never know where events like this may strike. It is for this reason that your public safety members will be training on events such as this. Please remember these are "DRILLS". The public will be informed when such drills will occur. We just want you to recognize we need to practice the procedures and processes should we have to respond.

The EMS District is striving to provide the best service we can. We are facing some significant funding shortfalls and the Board is looking at all of our options. As we get closer to narrowing down a plan we will be asking for members of the community to be part of a recommendation panel to evaluate our information, and look at the options before us. It is your support that will continue to allow us to have adequately staffed ambulances and to meet the challenges of providing EMS in a rural county such as ours.

We look for funding wherever we can. One opportunity was too applied to FEMA for a $77,000 grant that would purchase a new monitor / defibrillator as well as these automatic cardiac compression devices. These last items will alleviate the need for four to five additional responders to provide adequate CPR in the event that is needed. Studies have shown, continuous, proficient compressions have the largest outcome on survival of sudden cardiac arrest. This is why Hands-Only CPR is the recognized standard now for lay persons as well as Healthcare Providers before advanced equipment arrives. All you need to do is, search Hands Only CPR to see any number of websites that will instruct you how to do this. It truly works---

Finally we have had a few changes in the composure of our board. Robb Kimmes has stepped down from Chair to Director and Chuck Verts has moved into the Chair position. Dan Birkhimer has resigned and Patty Elkin's named has been moved forward to the Klickitat County Commissioners for appointment.

Finally our board now holds their monthly meeting at the Dallesport Community Center (Old Head Start) at 136 6th St. They are the 4th Thursday at 3:00 PM and last about two hours. They are open meetings and the public is always welcome.

Thank you for your support--
