STEVE ZARRO
VOICE ACTOR

Currently narrating...

The Invisible Walls of Dannemora

By Michael H. Blaine

I had the pleasure of working with Steve Zarro on the launch campaign for Stratosphere Surfboards. The team at Creative Embassy had very specific ideas about the character, delivery and timing of the main voice over. Steve took their direction exceptionally well and delivered exactly what they wanted. Even more important for me as a producer, Steve was totally accommodating and able to deliver 2 additional punch-in lines from his home studio the day after our session. Thanks to his recording chops, we were able to make the changes, and stay on schedule with our final mix delivery. I highly recommend Steve as a voice over artist, collaborator and professional.

Steve truly brought my characters to life! As an author, we spend a lot of time imagining what they sound like, and I couldn't have asked for a better interpretation. I also appreciated Steve's collaboration and attention to detail when it came to pronunciation and other aspects of the narration. I could not have asked for a more professional process or a better finished product.

Deep Background

A great performance narrating a twisty story from several points of view, each of which has its own unique perspective. Well done.

The fast-paced story featured interesting characters. Some are sometimes dark, quirky, and funny, and the narrator tapped into that, especially the character who spoke in movie quotes. As an actor, I'm sure the narrator appreciated that!

Working with Steve Zarro is a pleasure and a privilege -- not only because Steve's rich, authoritative voice infuses a documentary or a business video with weight and credibility but because he is a perfectionist and a true professional. Zarro blends that rare combination of delivering a voice/over project efficiently and timely but he navigates the job with an enthusiasm that makes you feel he cares about your project as much as you do. I look forward to working with Steve on many, many more projects down the road.

Steve is not only great at what he does, but wonderful to work with! He has added real value to my e-learning course with his work. I would highly recommend anyone in the learning and development community to contact Steve for assistance with any voice over work that they may be looking to have done.

Steve worked for me on multiple occasions while I was the manager of a national video production team at Verizon. My team cast Steve in multiple roles for us, including voice-over for video and eLearning content as well as on-screen talent for marketing and e-learning events. Steve is a true professional. He is prepared, coachable, and our stakeholders loved him. I would recommend Steve to any organization looking to meet their sales, service, or learning goals.

Rockland Road Runners Kids race 2019 was honored to have Steve as our Official Announcer this year. What a wonderful addition he was to help make this a truly special day for the runners!

When I needed voice over work or on air talent, Steve was always my first choice. He was a true professional and so easy to work with. He was always prepared, took direction well, offered suggestions when needed, and was always willing to do another take until everyone was satisfied. I was always amazed how easily he could alter his voice to play a different character and make himself sound different. Steve has a passion for what he does, which means he will always give you 150%. You won't be disappointed if you use him in your upcoming projects.

Our quest for VO talent was fulfilled when we found you! We needed a male voice that would appeal to academics and executives -- as well as bus/truck drivers and mechanics – all wrapped into one. Your clear pronunciation, along with your friendly and professional tone suited our needs just perfectly. Files came on time, in the right formats, and edited so they were ready to drop right into our e-learning. And, as an added bonus, you were a pleasure to work with. Thank you for being you and for helping us with this project. We look forward to working with you again!

Thank you so much for your collaboration, your attention to detail, and your professionalism! Our last training that included your voice work far exceeded the expectations of our Leadership Team; and they couldn't say enough about how "professional" the voice over was and how it has raised the bar for our training standards. The work you have done for us so far has improved the effectiveness of our corporate training program immensely and has helped us engage our professionals on a much greater level than our courses ever have in the past.

Not only have you saved me hours and hours of work on audio editing, but also your partnership in the final production of audio has saved us even more time by producing ready-to-use files. It has never been this easy to incorporate audio in our programs.

Steve was introduced to me as a "voiceover actor" and, having heard that phrase before, I approached our new relationship with some trepidation. The voiceover actors I have worked with in the past have invariably been somewhat wooden in their delivery and extremely limited when approaching the craft of acting. My relationship with Steve has proven my preconceptions to be wrong on both counts. Steve has an unusual talent as an actor, takes direction with affability, uses his terrific voice with precision, is a pleasure to work with, has an uncanny ability to round out a scene and an uncommon understanding of how he fits into your production. I would recommend him without hesitation. His contributions will improve your product, whatever it might be, as well as your production. You will be happy you chose him.
