

First Vice-President Position Description

According to Chapter Constitution

The First Vice-President, in the absence of the President, shall perform the duties of the President and shall succeed to the office of President should a vacancy occur. Additionally, the First Vice-President shall be the contact with International Headquarters and shall complete all necessary Ikebana International forms.