Pg. 2-4: NC Constitutional Amendment

Constitutional Amendments

Why is This Happening?

On Election Day, Tuesday, November 6, 2018, six constitutional amendments to the North Carolina constitution will be on the ballot. In the last 20 years, North Carolina has only voted on 7 constitutional amendments. In the past 47 years, only 10 amendments have been added to the NC constitution.

North Carolina's lawmakers have rushed these amendments to the ballot. Lawmakers are trying to add six amendments in one year. This is unheard of and an attack on democracy. The current lawmakers are using this process to make dramatic changes to your life as a North Carolinian that will last far past their tenure in government.

If these six amendments all pass, it will have a major impact on your daily life in North Carolina, especially for members of the justice-involved community.

What is the North Carolina Constitution?

The Constitution of the State of North Carolina governs the structure and function of the state government of North Carolina. It limits government, protects rights, and sets state policy.

How Does an Amendment Get Added?

The majority of people in North Carolina have to vote in support of an amendment before the constitution of North Carolina can be changed. YOU have the power to stop changes to North Carolina's constitution.

Q

Amendment #1: Right to Hunt, Fish, and Harvest

Wildlife

What you'll see on the ballot, and how you should mark it:

FOR AGAINST

Constitutional amendment protecting the right of the people to hunt, fish, and harvest wildlife.

Why you should vote AGAINST this amendment: This amendment is a charade. No rights to hunt and fish are currently being threatened. The amendment's language comes from a template suggested by the National Rifle Association. If passed, this amendment could restrict Sunday hunting laws and can result in "traditional" hunting to allow trapping, poisoning, and other cruel death to wildlife.

Amendment #2: Rights of Victims of Crime

What you'll see on the ballot, and how you should mark it:

FOR AGAINST

Constitutional amendment to strengthen protections for victims of crime; to establish certain absolute basic rights for victims; and to ensure the enforcement of these rights.

Why you should vote AGAINST this amendment:

North Carolina already has a victim's rights

Constitutional amendment, so this amendment is unnecessary. Worse, in states where this amendment has passed, county courts have noticed sharp increases in administrative costs and time. A report from the Administrative Office of the Courts, reported by N.C. Policy Watch, pegs the cost of this amendment at $30.5 million per year, paid by you as a North Carolina taxpayer. Such a huge cost could create funding shortfalls for implementing other important legislation like Raise the Age. Additionally, this amendment could result in victims receiving sensitive information about juvenile cases without any restriction on how they may use it or publicly disclose it.

Q

Amendment #3: Bipartisan State Board of Ethics and Elections Enforcement

What you'll see on the ballot, and how you should mark it:

FOR AGAINST

Constitutional amendment to establish an eight-member Bipartisan Board of Ethics and Elections Enforcement in the Constitution to administer ethics and elections law.

Why you should vote AGAINST this amendment: This amendment is a power grab by legislators that will take hundreds of important appointments away from the Executive Branch – powers the Executive Branch has had for over 47 years. This amendment reduces the number of members on the Board of Ethics and Elections – the very board that ensures fair and free elections in North Carolina. The number of members on the board would drop from nine to eight and be divided evenly between the two major parties, leaving out representation for unaffiliated voters and smaller parties, and ensuring claims are dismissed more often due to tie votes. Legislative leaders would appoint all of the members of the board and the governor would appoint none. In short, this amendment will make legislative supremacy the constitutional law of this state.

Amendment #4: Selection for Judicial Vacancies

What you'll see on the ballot, and how you should mark it:

FOR AGAINST

Constitutional amendment to change the process for filling judicial vacancies that occur between judicial elections from a process in which the Governor has sole appointment power to a process in which the people of the State nominate individuals to fill vacancies by way of a commission comprised of appointees made by the judicial, executive, and legislative branches charged with making recommendations to the legislature as to which nominees are deemed qualified; then the legislature will recommend at least two nominees to the Governor via legislative action not subject to gubernatorial veto; and the Governor will appoint judges from among these nominees.

Why you should vote AGAINST this amendment: Under our current law, the Governor (elected statewide by a majority of voters) is bestowed with the authority to appoint judges to judicial vacancies. This proposed Constitutional amendment strips the Governor of that power and puts it in the hands and control of a few legislators in what they are calling a “merit commission,” elected only by voters in their home districts. This is a legislative power grab that will result in a partisan selection of judges. Additionally, our justice system could become even more overburdened by shortage of judges, moving trial dates further out and keeping people in jail longer as they wait. With this amendment, newly-appointed judges would serve twice as long without standing for election. Passage of this amendment would allow the current legislature to “pack” the NC Supreme Court by adding two extra seats and appointing their whomever they want to those seats, upsetting the current elected balance on the court in favor of their agenda.

Amendment #5: Cap On Income Tax Rate

What you’ll see on the ballot, and how you

should mark it:

[] FOR [X] AGAINST

Constitutional amendment to reduce the income tax rate in North Carolina to a maximum allowable rate of seven percent (7%).

Why you should vote AGAINST this amendment:

This proposed amendment ties the hands of future legislators to adjust for unforeseen consequences of a recession or natural disasters like hurricanes. No one wants tax increases, but this amendment would benefit only the most wealthy citizens while cutting public services for education, transportation, and infrastructure. If a constitutional tax cap is imposed, local governments will likely have to raise your property taxes, service fees and sales taxes – all of which disproportionately affect middle- and low-income families more than wealthy ones.

Amendment #6: Voter ID

What you’ll see on the ballot, and how you

should mark it:

[] FOR [X] AGAINST

Constitutional amendment to require voters to provide photo identification before voting in person.

Why you should vote AGAINST this amendment:

LEARN
TAI CHI

Thursday Nights
6:30 - 7:30 pm
in the Chapel

Mark Fleming will be teaching

Pure and simple – this is voter suppression. We know from statistics and court decisions that the majority of people who have difficulty providing photo ID at the polls are seniors, people of color, and women. This amendment would make it much harder for them to vote in North Carolina, permanently. Worse, the legislators that introduced this amendment have not defined what would be acceptable forms of photo identification (i.e., military ID, student ID) and to date, there are no plans to provide free photo ID. In 2016, only 3 incidents of voter fraud were alleged out of 3 million voters voting. Voter fraud is NOT currently a problem in North Carolina and does not need to be prevented by an amendment created to suppress voters.

October 28 is Souls to the Polls.

It's the only day for Early Voting on Sunday 12-5 pm. If you need transportation, please let a staff member know asap. We encourage everyone to vote, but we never endorse candidates. We do, however, speak out on amendments, which is a church's legal right and moral obligation.

Statement of Opposition to Constitutional Amendments

Approved unanimously on September 11, 2018 by the Governing Board of the North Carolina Council of Churches

The Governing Board of the North Carolina Council of Churches opposes six amendments to the North Carolina Constitution that have been approved by the General Assembly and that will be submitted to voters in the 2018 general election. We base our opposition on these grounds:

1) The state Constitution is our state government's charter of principles and organization toward the ends of justice and liberty. It should be amended only in the interests of making our system of government more fair and efficient in promoting the welfare of all state residents. Proposed amendments must be advanced after careful, open consideration and with due regard for the public's need to understand their effects.

2) Legislation setting forth the six amendments was hurried to passage in June during the closing days of 2018 regular session. That schedule did not allow for a thorough, objective review of the amendments' costs and consequences. Revisions in response to adverse court rulings similarly have been rushed.

3) Constitutional amendments must be approved by voters in statewide referendums. For those referendums to be credible, descriptions on the ballot of the proposed changes must be straightforward and accurate. The referendum language stipulated by the legislature does not meet that standard.

4) In some cases, the referendums seek voters' approval for major organizational and policy changes that would be carried out through subsequent legislation. Because that legislation would not be brought forth until amendments were approved, voters would not be able to tell specifically what changes in state laws they were being asked to authorize. They are being asked to issue blank checks to a legislative majority that has abused the amendment process to conceal its intentions.

5) Taken together, the proposed amendments would:

- Promote a partisan agenda that fails to address many of North Carolina's most important needs, and would help shield misguided laws from further constitutional challenges.
- Be designed to boost turnout among voters who would help the majority maintain its grip on power.
- Augment that power at the expense of the governor, upsetting the balance required for good and just governance.

6) Specifically, the amendments in their latest versions would:

- Embed in the Constitution a requirement that in-person voters present photo identification. The legislature already has shown a willingness to use such requirements to hold down the number of voters, especially among the poor, elderly and racial minorities, and it has been rebuked by the courts. (Reference Session Law 2018-128.)

- Reduce the governor's authority over the State Board of Ethics and Elections Enforcement in a way that the state Supreme Court already has rejected. The effect would be to overrule that decision and likely to further hinder access to the polls. (Reference Session Law 2018-133.)
- Strip the governor of his or her independent authority to decide who should fill vacant judgeships. The governor instead would have to choose among at least two candidates presented by the legislature, which has shown its eagerness to give the courts a partisan slant. Among other ill effects, such a breach in the separation of powers could work to erode the separation of church and state. (Reference Session Law 2018-132.)
- Expand the existing rights of crime victims to receive notice of and participate in court proceedings. This proposal was approved without due regard to the additional costs to an already underfunded justice system. Victims' rights must be taken seriously, but there is little to suggest that's not currently the case. (Reference Session Law 2018-110.)
- Guarantee the right to "hunt, fish and harvest wildlife." The ability to engage in these traditional activities in keeping with sensible regulations is not threatened. (Reference Session Law 2018-96.)
- Cap the state income tax at 7 percent, constraining future legislatures' ability to raise sufficient revenue to deal with unforeseen events or changing priorities. The present cap of 10 percent is more than sufficient to protect the taxpayers. (Reference Session Law 2018-119.)

The North Carolina Council of Churches rejects manipulation of the state Constitution that enables one branch of government to impose its will on another, that abuses the amendment process for partisan gain and that facilitates a radical agenda harmful to the state's well-being and in conflict with justice guidelines followed by the Council. We stand against the proposed amendments for the damage they are likely to do and for the cynical manner in which they are being pursued.

Note: There will be a panel discussion of this topic on Wednesday, October 17, 6:30 pm at College Park Church.

Clothed with the Sun: Fierce Women from the Bible

Our fall sermon series is titled: Clothed with the Sun: Fierce Women from the Bible. Most every Sunday we'll hear about a woman from our sacred text. Some stories will be familiar, some will likely be new to you. Some might inspire, while others might be uncomfortable and odd. You can help us with photos and stories from the fierce women in your life.

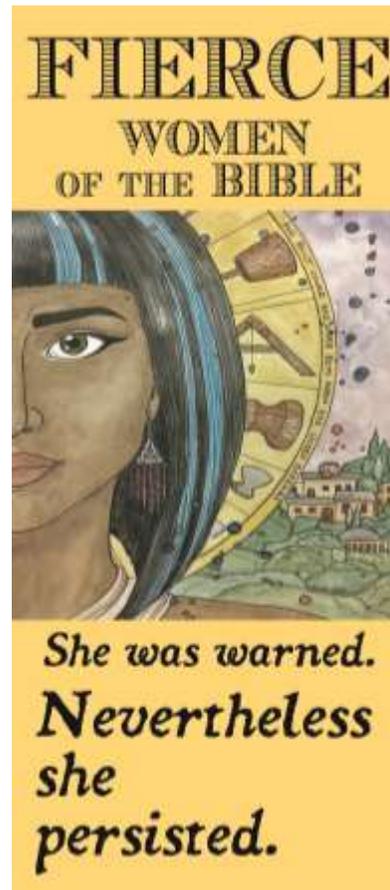

Photos: Bring a framed photo of a fierce women in your life. It can be anyone—mother, sister, teacher, professor, pastor, counselor, daughter, doctor, aunt, etc. The pictures should be 5x7 or 8x10, already framed. They should NOT be original pictures that you would hate to lose. All the pictures will be returned, and we'll use them to adorn the communion table and worship windows.

Stories: We'd love to have your story about a fierce woman in your life. Can you tell about such a woman in 800 words or less? Please no stories about mothers—we all love our mothers, but we don't need 50 stories about our mothers.. Remember specifics make it more interesting. Tell us about an incredible woman who helped you in your life or spiritual journey. We'll share some of these (with your permission) in worship or in the Collage. We need them as soon as possible, but no later than Oct. 1, please.

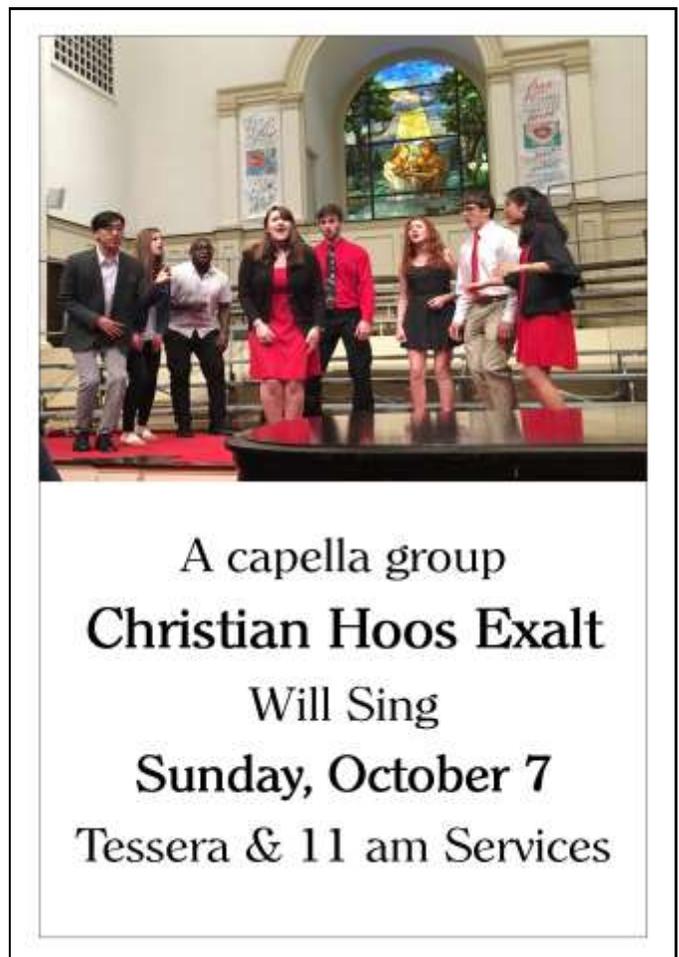

The title of this sermon series comes from Rev 12.1: A great portent appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars. This lovely powerful image is neglected by so many Christian readers who instead are obsessed with the Beast, 666, the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse, the Dragon, and the False Prophet. Joyce Hollyday, a pastor in Asheville, wrote:

“What an image of the glory and power of womanhood we have in the Bible's last book! Woman as portent, an indication of things momentous and marvelous about to occur. Standing at the end of the path, the Woman Clothed with the Sun invites us forward, beckoning us toward the courage that she possesses. She will be there at the end, welcoming us into the light of her glory.” [Clothed with the Sun: Biblical Women, Social Justice, and Us]

This amazing image from John's dream, and Rev. Hollyday's book, will be our guides for our fall consideration of fierce biblical women.

During our “Clothed with the Sun: Fierce Women of the Bible” fall sermon series, our adult choir will be featuring music in which the text and/or music has been composed or arranged by women. They will be introducing several works that are new to our congregation, including songs from Voices Found: Women in the Church's Song and Inclusive Hymns for Liberating Christians, by Jann Aldredge-Clanton. If you're interested in looking at these works further, copies of each can be found in the office for your perusal.

Your money was sent to Mozambique.

You fundraised and because of your hard work, families in Mozambique will soon have clean water to drink.

YOUR CAMPAIGN Waiting for Water	AMOUNT RAISED $2,399
------------------------------------	--------------------------

Why Mozambique?

Mozambique underwent a civil war that led to extreme poverty and severely unhealthy living conditions. In addition, floods and earthquakes exacerbate the growing water crisis. With the 22nd highest child mortality rate in the world, every year 82,000 children in Mozambique don't make it to the age of five.

Recently, Mozambique has made incredible strides toward development, and providing access to clean water is a major priority.

What's next?

Thanks to you, our partner organization, HELVETAS USA, is busy working on 122 projects. When those projects are complete, we'll collect GPS coordinates, photos, and other details about each community to show you the impact you've made in Mozambique.

Creation Project

Have you taken a photograph that always reminds you of the infinite beauty of God's creation, or have you made a piece of visual art through which you felt able to express God in and through the act of creation? We are looking for photographs and pieces of art created by College Park members to display in our church halls. These pieces will serve as a regular reminder of the awesome beauty of creation, as observed and expressed by our members! If you'd like to submit a photograph or piece of art, please include the following information with the piece:

Name/Brief Description of Piece
Name of Photographer/Artist
Date/Year of Photograph/Artwork

...and send a high-resolution photograph to: christianmcivor@gmail.com. Photos should be cropped for standard frame sizes (5x7, 8x10, 11x14, 16x20). Art pieces and works that are already framed can be accepted in the church office throughout the week or on Sunday. We look forward to seeing your submissions!
