History of the SEPC

- In 1999, our six founding members met at the Atlanta Farmer's Market and discovered they shared a vision for establishing a nonprofit Southeastern-based produce organization. From the first formal meeting of the Southeast Produce Council (SEPC) where 100 agriculture, retail and foodservice professionals gathered, we've grown into a vibrant and innovative organization of over 2,500 industry professionals. Today, we continue to grow at a steady pace thanks to a broad range of backgrounds and expertise from people like you.

Our Vision

- To be the premier produce resource in the Southeast.

Our Mission

- To provide innovative networking, community, and educational opportunities while offering a platform for building professional relationships based on trust, integrity, and passion.

Our Values

Integrity

Morality

Passion

Accountability

Charity

Teamwork

Our Goals

- To promote the consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables from Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, and Virginia through good fellowship, cooperation, and mutual interest among members.
- To instill a high sense of professionalism and loyalty in each other.
- To support charitable causes in Southeastern communities.

Networking

- Southern Exposure
 - o Not to be missed. At our flagship tradeshow and conference, you'll see the best of the best fruits and vegetables from hundreds of exhibitors. Thousands of attendees include foodservice and retail buyers, agricultural leaders, product innovators, and peers who are ready to share ideas and friendship. And there's never a dull moment with a wealth of educational sessions, keynote speakers, and entertainment.
- Southern Innovations
 - o Our annual showcase of the most innovative products and ideas within the produce industry. Brush up on best practices, keep up with emerging trends, test new products, hear from national thought leaders, and network with other council members who share the same passions you do. Be a part of an event designed by buyers for buyers.
- Southern Roots
 - o Southern Roots is our leadership program for women in produce, held at both Southern Exposure and Southern Innovations. Participants have an opportunity to improve leadership skills through events, education, and mentoring. By sharing values, contributions, and experiences we positively affect organizational effectiveness at all levels.

Innovation

An innovative spirit has always been present within the SEPC that is constantly evolving to provide fresh ideas for our industry. Innovation is at the heart of all that we do at the SEPC, and we strive to ensure this innovative spirit exists within all four of the SEPC pillars.

- Networking
 - o The SEPC leads the industry in ensuring that a trade show is more than just an event, it is an experience. We were the first to provide this enriching experience for participants where meaningful relationships are created, nurtured, and solidified year after year.
- Innovation
 - o The SEPC is leading the industry with programs that foster innovative ideas and techniques to promote the consumption of fruits and vegetables in the Southeast - including its STARS, STEP-UPP, and LINKS programs which seek to educate not only its current members but also future generations of the produce industry. We also award select members who have made an impact in the industry with the Next Generation Award as well as the Terry Vorhees Lifetime Achievement Award.
- Community
 - o A priority at the SEPC is to support organizations that promote the consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables. The SEPC currently supports 5 charitable organizations and has given over $1 million in charitable donations to date.

- Education

- The SEPC has always provided and will continue to provide exceptional, out-of-the-box educational sessions, ensuring that our members receive quality education about the produce industry as well as other best practices for produce companies. The SEPC provides multiple scholarship opportunities each year and has awarded over $1 million in scholarships to date.

Community

The SEPC is proud to support non-profit organizations that help children and families in need across the Southeast. With the help of our members, we are able to contribute volunteer hours, product donations, and financial support year-round to help make a difference in the lives of local children and families. We thank all of our members who are actively involved in our community outreach efforts and invite anyone who is interested to get involved!

- Children's Healthcare of Atlanta

- In the SEPC's continuing effort to help fight childhood obesity and educate the public about the benefits of eating fruits and vegetables, we are proud to partner with Children's Healthcare of Atlanta's Strong4Life program, a wellness movement designed to ignite societal change and reverse the epidemic of childhood obesity and its associated diseases in Georgia. Strong4Life reaches families through public awareness, policy change efforts, school programs, healthcare provider programs, community partnerships, and more, with a goal of improving family nutrition, making physical activity habits fun, and providing parents and caregivers the support they need to accomplish their goals. The SEPC supports the Children's Healthcare of Atlanta Strong4Life Superhero Sprint each year in June in Atlanta through the donation of volunteer hours, products, and fundraising. We are always in need of products for our tent, hands-on help at the event, and participants/fundraisers!

- Arnold Palmer Hospital for Children

- Located in Orlando, FL, Arnold Palmer Hospital for Children is a sanctuary of hope and healing. The most advanced technology coupled with compassion and dedication have made Arnold Palmer Hospital one of the most trusted names in children's healthcare worldwide. With 158 pediatric beds, careful attention has been paid to creating a cheerful, comforting environment to minimize stress and generate smiles. The SEPC is proud to provide funding each year to help make sure those visiting this hospital get the best care possible.

- Palmer Home for Children
 - o Palmer Home for Children provides family and community to children in need regardless of race, gender, or background. Serving individual children and sibling groups, Palmer Home provides superior residential care for children while introducing the love of God through their service to each individual child. Children receive care through a residential model on one of Palmer Home for Children's two campuses located in Columbus and Hernando, Mississippi. Palmer Home staff use the Whole Child Initiative's approach to caregiving, offering a comprehensive approach to working with children that recognizes and addresses the multi-dimensional aspects of their lives: physical, emotional, educational, and spiritual.

- Paul Anderson Youth Home
 - o The Paul Anderson Youth Home is home to Paul Anderson Ministries, existing to serve troubled youth between the ages of 16 – 21 from all over the country by providing a Christian home environment in which they can rebuild their broken lives through Recovery, Restoration, and Redemption. The SEPC has been able to help donate funds and bring projects like the Goodness Garden to life to help supply fresh fruits and vegetables and teach the boys about horticulture and the basic care and nurturing needed to grow produce. We have also provided resources and man hours to build a chicken coop for the boys and continue to support the solid foundation and life education PAYH is instilling in each and every one of those young men.

- Society of St. Andrew
 - o Through our partnership with the Society of St. Andrew we are able do our part to help feed America's hungry. In addition to financial support as well as disaster relief donations, the SEPC is honored to work with the Society of St. Andrew to donate all leftover food from Southern Exposure and Southern Innovations each year to help those who are hungry in the Southeast. To date, the SEPC has become the largest distributor of fresh fruits and vegetables to the needy in the Tampa and Orlando areas, feeding over 300 families!

Education

- STARS (Southeast Top Agricultural Recruits Scholarship) is the Southeast Produce Council's scholarship program available to outstanding students who are agriculture majors in Southeast- based land grant universities. The goal of STARS is to recruit top students and to introduce them to job opportunities in the produce industry.
 - o Application Process
 - Ideal candidates are rising seniors in undergraduate majors related to the growing and marketing of produce and related products.

Minimum 3.2 GPA or higher. Additionally, it is preferred that students have demonstrated an interest in growing and/or marketing of produce.

- Scholarship recipients will be expected to attend the Southeast Produce Council's Southern Exposure Conference & Expo. The Southeast Produce Council will cover travel expenses to this event. The scholarship recipients will have the opportunity to meet with over two hundred produce industry grower/shippers as well as the nation's leading retailers and foodservice distributors.

- STEP-UPP (Southeast Training Education Program for Upcoming Produce Professionals) provides an enriched learning experience for high potential retail and food service produce professionals. Candidates develop a greater understanding of the industry through strategic orientation, personal leadership, and hands on field experience. Twelve (12) individuals are selected through an application and interview process based on leadership experience and interest in developing a career in fresh produce. Potential candidates must be active members of SEPC.
 - Strategic Orientation
 - Business growth occurs through strategic planning and partnerships. This program will broaden the participants' strategic view of the fresh produce industry through supply chain overviews, collaborative business planning, category development, and key performance indicator discussions.
 - Personal Leadership & Networking
 - The success of all good leaders depends on personal development and relationship building. Education may include leadership styles, managing for performance, negotiation strategy, and opportunities to connect with other SEPC members.
 - Field Experience
 - Application is an important part of all education. The emphasis in this area will be to gain an understanding of how to partner with growers more effectively to build mutually beneficial relationships.
- The PIT (Produce Inspection Training) program is a two-day course intended for quality control personnel, produce buyers, produce inventory control personnel, and other company associates involved in the receiving, handling, buying, and shipping of fresh produce. A certificate of completion will be awarded to each attendee who completes both the spring and fall courses. International Produce Training (IPT) will conduct the training. Please note that this class is limited to 20 attendees. Registration is on a first-come, first-served basis and priority will be given to SEPC members.

- LINKS (Learning, Interaction, and Networking with Key Players in the Supply Chain) is an educational leadership program where exceptional, qualified individuals in the Grower/Shipper community connect with Retail/Foodservice providers in the Southeast. Taking place during Southern Exposure and Southern Innovations, LINKS is designed to create a non-competitive environment to facilitate exchange of ideas, learning, interaction, networking, and enhanced understanding of the retail supply chain to achieve the overall goals to better service consumers and drive consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables in the Southeast. Exhibiting Grower/Shippers will be invited upon request of participating Retail/Foodservice members. Upon selection, both parties will then be assigned a location and time in which their meeting will take place at Southern Exposure or Southern Innovations.

Member Benefits

As an SEPC member, you'll join a diverse group of likeminded produce professionals, from farmers to distributors and retailers to chefs. It's about growing your knowledge, sharpening your skills, sharing your passion with others, and enjoying what makes this corner of the country extra special: its long tradition of bringing people together through food that is grown, distributed, and cooked with love.

- Networking
 - o Our members come from all corners of the Southeast—and beyond. Which makes for an unparalleled opportunity to meet new friends, share business ideas, and maybe join in on that next tailgate.
- Innovation
 - o We lead the industry in fostering innovative ideas in produce and technology. We don't just think outside of the box, we think outside of the farm to provide thought-provoking information to keep our members informed. We honor those who've made a significant impact within our industry by presenting our annual Next Generation Award and Terry Vorhees Lifetime Achievement Award.
- Community
 - o We proudly support local charitable organizations who promote the consumption of fresh fruits & vegetables. We invite you to experience the invaluable feeling of giving back by volunteering and donating products to any of our variety of community initiatives.
- Education
 - o Your membership includes admission to numerous educational sessions at our conferences, events, and engagements (like Southern Exposure and Southern Innovations) throughout the year.
