

ESTMJS

ESTMJS Annual Meeting 2019

10-11th May 2019

University Hospital Marburg, Germany

Topics:

- Consensus on Condylar Dislocation
- Dos and Don'ts in Condylar Trauma
- Difficult Cases & Personal Communications

ESTMJS

Dear friends, dear ESTMJS and ASTMJS members, after our successful joint EACMFS/ESTMJS event in Munich 2018, it is now my great pleasure to invite you to participate in the Annual ESTMJS meeting 2019, which will be held at Marburg, Germany, from 10-11th May 2019.

In contrast to our 2018 open meeting, the ESTMJS 2019 Annual Meeting in Marburg, Hesse, Germany will be a two day meeting. As you know, the members' meeting on Friday and the following sessions are deliberately designed to be closed shop, therefore, access will be strictly limited to both ESTMJS and ASTMJS members together with candidates for ESTMJS membership only.

First main topic of the closed ESTMJS scientific sessions on 10-11th May 2019 will be “recurrent condylar dislocation”, for which we aim to establish an evidence based consensus and viable recommendations among European ESTMJS members. Only at first glance appearing to be an “easy topic”, e.g. longstanding recurrent dislocation may hold a lot of pitfalls and become a source of frustration. Another special focus will be “dos and dont's” in fractures which directly affect the TMJ. This long standing and highly controversially debated topic was decided to deepen the discussions initiated during our IBRA/ESTMJS consensus conference in Munich. Being able to restore physiological conditions but also presenting as a potential cause of major adverse sequels , especially the intermediate to long term results of our treatments, either surgical or non-surgical, need be re-evaluated also within the scope of the recent popular renaissance of the TMJ prosthesis. Last but not least, all of our members are kindly called upon to contribute with own difficult cases and personal communications to make our closed shop meeting format a success.

The venue for the ESTMJS Annual Meeting 2019 will be a recently built lecture room complex at Marburg University Hospital/Lahnberge (cf. above), which is home of the Medical Faculty of Philipps University Marburg. Philipps University itself looks back to a long tradition and was founded in 1527, being the eighth among those German universities continuously active till today. In addition, Marburg, which used to be number one place of pilgrimage in German medieval ages thanks to St. Elizabeth, thus nowadays is proud to host the oldest protestant university with continued teaching activity worldwide.

The meeting venue will be the University Hospital Lahnberge, which is located on a hilltop overlooking the historical town of Marburg, which can either be reached via the city bus system or preferably via taxi (i.e. 10 minutes drive from the city center). Marburg, is essentially a university town with almost as much as one third of the inhabitants being students, there are numerous hotels located near to the city center. Further information including details regarding our social program for Friday evening will be available in the near future.

CONFERENCE REGISTRATION

If you wish to register your interest in attending the Annual Conference, please contact Paula Bradley (paula@estmjs.org) confirming which days you wish to attend.

Marburg can be reached by commuter train via Frankfurt central railway station in approximately 1 – 1.5 hours, Frankfurt central station has direct suburban railway commuter connections with Frankfurt International Airport. From Frankfurt to Marburg via train will take around 2 hours. Alternatively, there are airport transfers available, which will bring you to Marburg via autobahn which will take approximately 1 hour. We will be happy to assist you with organizing your journey, e.g. to arrange for groups to go to Marburg, which is approximately 100 km from Frankfurt airport. The weather during May is usually very good in an area which allows for relaxation and strolling in the historical part of the city, which counts among one of the major touristic highlights of Hesse, Germany with many historical spots and a cosy historical old town.

The organizing team and myself are looking forward to meeting with you soon in Marburg in 2019.

Best regards

Andreas Neff
President ESTMJS 2017/19

ESTMJS

