

DIANA GUTH, BA, RRT

BOARD MEMBER SINCE 2019

Diana Guth, BA, RRT, a Registered Respiratory Therapist since 1971, is the owner of Home Respiratory Care. She has worked in the Home Medical Equipment industry since 1985. For the last 24 years, her company has specialized in treating people who have sleep disorders & providing noninvasive ventilation to people with neuromuscular disorders. Home Respiratory Care offers cutting edge respiratory devices that benefit people with sleep disorders, respiratory insufficiency, asthma, cystic fibrosis, bronchiectasis, COPD. In addition, she is the Respiratory Therapist on the UCLA ALS Clinic Medical Team.

Diana is active in numerous professional organizations that include but are not limited to the American Association for Homecare and the American Association for Respiratory Care. She is on the Program/Research Committee of Breathe California Los Angeles and has been an ongoing member of the Trudeau Society.

She is published in several professional/trade journals primarily on topics associated with the respiratory care management of patients who have sleep disorders and neuromuscular disorders.

She has been a speaker at conferences sponsored by the ACCP, Breathe California LA, the national & local chapters ALS Association, UCLA Dental School, UCLA Pulmonary Conferences, VA WLA Pulmonary Department, Post Polio Organizations and local neuromuscular and sleep patient support groups.