World-Famous Historic Delaware Hotel 2-Day Liquidation Antique Auction

LEADVILLE, COLORADO (September 6, 2021) - Cookie Lockhart, the first woman inductee into the National Auctioneers Association Hall Of Fame, is excited to announce the Delaware Hotel 2-Day Liquidation Antique Auction to be held Live and Simulcast on Friday and Saturday, September 24th and 25th at 1 PM MTN at 700 Harrison Avenue, Leadville, CO. All lots can be viewed at www.DelawareHotelAuction.com.

This remarkable Antique Auction covers 135 years of history, “This will be an amazing opportunity to own a fabulous piece of historic memorabilia. The quality of this collection is unprecedented, you don’t want to miss this one!” Says Cookie Lockhart.

Often touted as the crown jewel of lodging, the Delaware Hotel’s presence on the corner of 7th and Harrison began in 1886 built by John Callaway as a monument to his home state. For the last 21 years Mr. and Mrs. Kit Williams traveled the world adding to the private museum. This will be an incredible event.

This historic icon of Victorian elegance and architecture is a treasure trove of American and European antiques in pristine condition. The 500+ item catalog will include; clothing, furniture, collectibles, display cabinets, knives, dishware, fixtures, bronzes, stained glass, signage, Native American art, jewelry, wildlife mounts, even a 1996 Ford Mustang COBRA SVT Convertible!
