Nationwide, Award Winning, Premium Live-in Care Staffing, Since 2010

STAY HOME
If you know someone who wants to stay at home, but who may need intermittent help on-and-off each day, and even sometimes in the middle of the night, then a live-in caregiver may be the perfect solution for them.

They can receive hands-on help with personal care, and/or memory-care, just like at an assisted living or a nursing home, but in the comfort of their own home.

Grandma Joan recruits and screens professional private-hire live-in caregivers who relocate to wherever your loved one lives. Your loved one hires their favorite caregiver as a household employee. These caregivers specialize in memory-care and hands-on help with transfers, and the ADLs.

HomePay takes care of your loved one's employer payroll obligations without work or worry to you. They also handle all the administrative details and documents, with online access to keep family members in the know.

For families that want oversight, a Care Manager that is local to your loved one, can be hired. They can assist you in the interview process, and after service begins, they can monitor and oversee the care plan for the family to ensure that everything is running smoothly.

The cost is about the same as a room in a nursing home. Grandma Joan has been helping people stay out of nursing homes for over ten years now. It is all that we do.
