

Bird bites about Rebekah Lea Phelps ...

It is my belief we all were raised and lived on some type of farm yard (fig.) Oh let me count the ways ... of the rich, costly lessons growing up "on the farm." Running into "wolves in sheep's clothing" along the yellow brick road of life. Due to my own bad decisions (made from a place of fear and insecurity) and running head on into deceiving people and sociopaths.

Great life lessons come out of those places and have taught me how to be better versus bitter. They have taught me how to stand for truth versus sit and settle (aka: be paralyzed by the fear of man). Those lessons have been the quilt of wisdom, discernment and boldness.

Most of us have learned how to be a "chick (people) pleaser" and stay in that place of comfort or "fly the coup." I have broken through the "shell" of fear and had to make many hard but right decisions. It's not because I'm strong, the credit for surviving and rising like the phoenix bird goes to God and God only.

I should be dead and look like I'm 80 years old. Stress and grief are awful companions. They have loomed overhead for decades ... Yet by the Grace of God, I have overcome. Having been tested and tried with the hardest people in life ... those closest to us; Parents, siblings, children, spouses, church authority and even employers. God allowed those things and used those people to REFINE me. I choose to stand with God despite it all ...

I am honored to help YOU make hard but right decisions. Take bolder steps to FREEDOM from mankind and run into the arms of The Lord. That secret place is where your identity lies, and freedom exist. Discover your gifts, talents and abilities and soar!

Anchor your soul, IN HIM and don't you dare give up!

I can't wait to meet you and encourage you to RISE and SOAR!
