

THE DRE

The DRE is an abbreviation created by Manuel P. Asensio, the founder of the Institution of Judicial Conduct and The Fathers Rights Movement Live that represents a federal judicial lie called the “domestic relations [and domestic violence] exception to federal subject matter jurisdiction” the federal judges fraudulently claim to be “a legitimate judicial doctrine of deference to federalism in family law.”

DRE is a lawless fabrication by the federal judges; yet it is enforced through federal judicial corruption in US courts as if it were law.

No such notion, doctrine, policy or legislation could be considered much less passed into law by the US legislative and presidential branches. The DRE is plain and simple crime against the Constitution, democracy, and the American people.

The DRE is a nationwide judicial fraud that violates very canons of civility, truth and reason, and is diametrically opposed to all notions of democracy, the rule of law, or constitutional thought, especially federalism.

Whether the federal judges call the DRE a policy, a doctrine, or a ruling, it is fraud on the Constitution against the American people.
