“Les Correspondances Sortent D’eastman” in Potton

THE SCOOP

MABLE HASTINGS

On Friday, April 20 at 8:00 p.m. at St. Paul’s Anglican Church (309 rue Principale) in Mansonville the Potton Cultural and Heritage Committee (CCPP) invites you to reconnect with Quebec through the storytelling, poetry and traditional music through a collaborative event between the CCPP and “Les Correspondances Sortent D’Eastman.” The show will celebrate Quebec’s landscapes and the history of the communities that shaped them.

Featuring a trio of musicians: Olivier Brousseau, Jérôme Fortin, Isaël McIntyre as well as author and storyteller, Jean-Francois Létourneau, the show, “Sur les Traces du Territoire: On Mourra Jamais” is sure to be both entertaining and enlightening. Known for their a cappella arrangements and vibrant blend of harmonies, as well as unique storytelling and toe tapping rhythm, you will be transformed and enveloped in the richness and pride of Quebec’s heritage.

Admission is free however voluntary contributions will be accepted. The space is limited with a first come, first seated policy. The duration of the show is 75 minutes.

Quebec, the largest of the 10 Canadian provinces is the second most populated province after Ontario. From its warm inhabitants to the local products and riches of Quebec’s outdoor life and activities, it is abundant in tradition and history. There is a story to tell and a way of life to celebrate and this special evening of music and words are sure to instill a sense of pride and joy.

Arrive early to assure a good seat and bring your best toe tapping footwear as the evening comes alive in Potton on April 20!
