The fintech “revolution”, is the driving force behind the development, deployment, and adoption of new payment technologies that are reconstructing the way the world transfers value.

Gleebill Global Solutions Inc., is a New York based fintech startup that was founded in 2016. Gleebill was created to provide a cross-border eCommerce receivables processing platform that provides multi-channel accessibility coupled with high speed collection and transfer of value free from fx/currency loss. The platform must be global, stable, flexible, efficient, and low cost. It must protect our clients, our banking partners and our reputation within the dynamic sphere of global regulations. KYC anyone, KYCC?

Our cross-border solutions are designed to accommodate the unique needs, and overcome the varying global challenges placed upon the hundreds of thousands of small to medium sized eCommerce businesses located throughout Hong Kong and mainland China.

Early stage growth emphasis is focused on serving the, over, 50,000 clients currently served by our parent company Shenzhen Gleepay Technology Co. Ltd. Since 2012 Gleepay has delivered these clients with cross-border payment card and digital currency processing solutions throughout mainland China, Hong Kong, Japan, Europe, Russia and other parts of Asia. Processing 1.5 Billion USD in 2013 Gleepay has grown to process values exceeding 3.5 Billion USD in 2016. While customer numbers have grown over this time frame, Gleepay now generates 16% of gross income through ancillary services provided to clients; empowering merchants to succeed and grow has been a tenet of growth for Gleepay. Gleebill is taking a similar approach to grow the business.

Primary Revenue Source: Gleebill Receivables Processing Platform. By rapidly processing payments earned and delivering an exceptional user clients will entrust us to continue processing their money and use our other revenue generating services.

Secondary Revenue Source: “Gleebill Global Grow,” consultative ancillary service offerings.

By offering the knowledge, analytics, and other tools necessary to empower our clients to deliver the most profitable product mix through the most appropriate global eCommerce channels they can maximize their ROI. As global marketplaces evolve we must rapidly deliver solutions to the unforeseen issues that may cause our clients to defect from transacting in such locations. Currently we are rolling out solutions to foster merchant engagement in the management of the obligatory 2018 SEPA VAT tax. Whatever obstacle to global trade may occur next our consultative approach will continue to lend much more than simply transferring value, we create revenue by assisting our clients to succeed and overcome changing market forces. This leads to maximizing the lifetime value of every client.
